

Respect Life means Respecting Every Person

What is life?

Life is anything or anyone that grows and changes.

Are plants and animals alive?

Yes, because they start very small and need water to grow and stay alive.

How is human life different?

Human life is different because they are persons. Plants and animals are not.

When do persons start being persons?

Persons start being persons before they are born.

How does each person grow?

Each person grows inside his or her mother's womb to become big and strong before birth.

Who are persons?

Persons are babies, children, parents, and grandparents. They all need special love and care.
