

CALIFORNIA GOLD*

All stone is a product of nature and, as such, variations in color, shape, size, texture, and tendency to fracture are natural characteristics and should be expected. These variations are inherent and part of what makes natural stone unique. Photos provided are for general reference only and do not guarantee color, pattern, or uniformity.