

Twenty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time C

Wisdom 9:13-18. If we can scarcely guess about earthly things, how can we ever know heavenly secrets? God sends the holy spirit to make known our paths on earth.

Psalm 90. In every age, O Lord, you have been our refuge.

Philemon 9-10, 12-17. In returning the runaway slave Onesimus to his owner Philemon, Paul asks the latter to receive the slave as a beloved brother.

Luke 14:25-33. We are to renounce all our possessions to be a disciple of Christ, even our father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters, yes our very self.
