

Need a standard machine immediately?

No one can deliver a standard size new thermoforming vacuum packaging machine and tooling faster than we can.

Because VC999 is constantly searching for smarter and better ways to help your business grow, we are leading the industry in new product innovation.

Last year our new R-Series machine launched and radically increased the speed of our thermoforming packing machines, making our customers more efficient.

This year, we introduced our newest and smallest rollstock machines. The C-Series. This Compact Rollstock machine offers our customers a full-featured system with a size and price that fits their business and budget.

The VC999 R-Series machine is considered dominant over its counter parts, due to its advanced technology.

It is designed for the food and medical industries.