

OSINTCTI

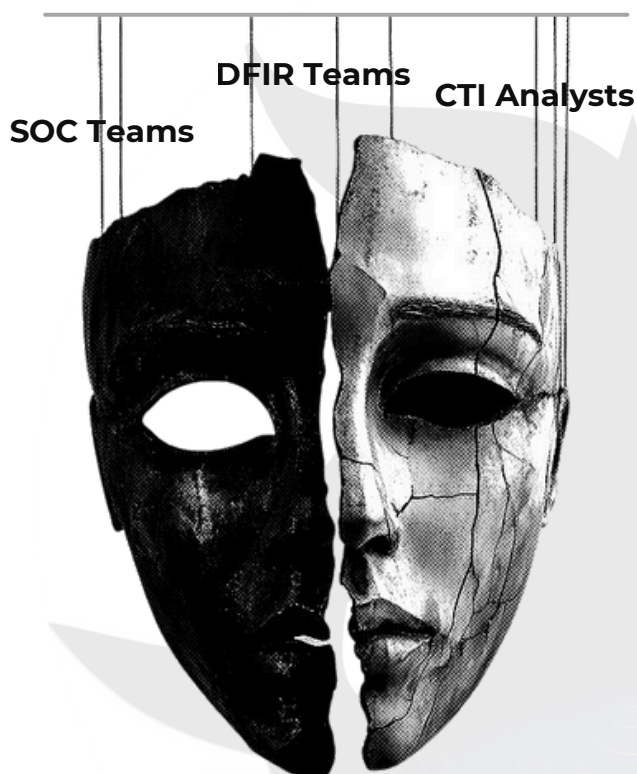

OsintCTI 2025 Dark Web Surface Report

01 Purpose & Audience

Objective: To document and analyse visible/accessible activities on dark web forums; to provide information on threat actors, discussed tooling/services, and current dark web search engines.

Target Audience

METHODOLOGY

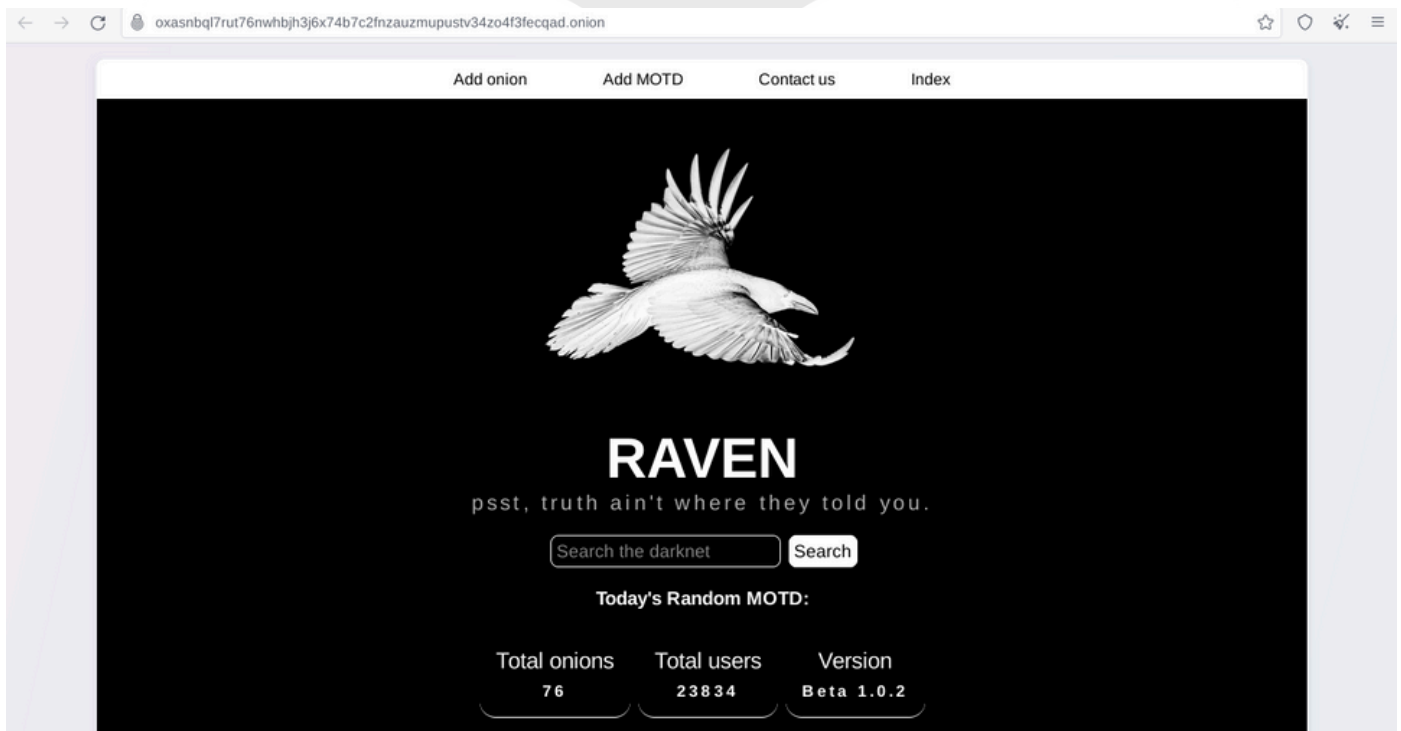

The forum information was obtained through open source intelligence (OSINT) methods via the Tor network. Only accessible .onion forums were included in the report. The accuracy of the data was assessed based on the date of access and the forum's activity status. Links are provided for informational purposes only, and direct access to the forum content itself is not recommended.

02 Forum Catalogue

The forums listed below are platforms that are active as of 2025 and are used among threat actors. Each forum description summarises the forum's primary purpose, content type, and potential value for analysts.

Current Dark Web Search Engines Used in 2025

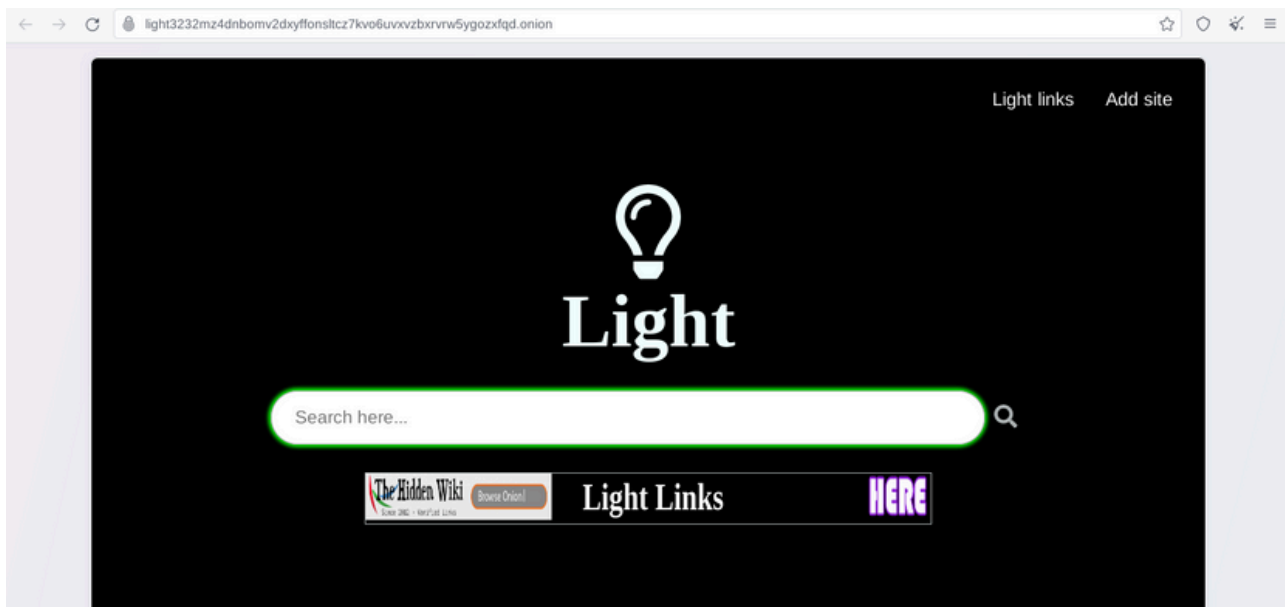

The screenshots and forum examples shared in this report have been deliberately censored where they could jeopardise public safety or contain personal data or harmful content. The images are included solely to provide context and facilitate CTI analysis; direct access to the content itself is not encouraged. Analysts are advised to remain within legal and ethical boundaries when reviewing this material, to open raw content only in isolated, secure analysis environments, and to classify and share findings in accordance with TLP/internal sharing policies. (Tor/onion addresses are provided in the report as defanging format where necessary.)

Closure and SIEM Integration

This study aims to provide CTI (Cyber Threat Intelligence) teams with an operational and tactical reference that can be used immediately by presenting a comprehensive inventory of accessible Dark Web forums as of 2025. Each record in the report is presented with its access date and reliability assessment; URLs are published in a defanged format (e.g. `exampl[e].onion`, `hxxps://...`) to prevent accidental clicks. Analysts can quickly prioritise, extract IOCs, and formulate follow-up queries using the contextual information obtained from the tables and explanations.

Operational Outputs and Integration Recommendations

The data provided in the report can be directly integrated into the following workflows:

SIEM/SOAR feed: Defanged onion addresses and hashes can be organised in STIX2 or CSV format and loaded as an automated rule/indicator feed.

Threat Hunting: Sigma/ELK queries and threat hunting playbooks can be created based on prominent forum topics highlighted in the report.

Triage & Prioritisation: Triage rules and incident escalation thresholds can be determined based on the reliability scores of the forums.

The purpose of this report is to provide information and assist in identifying risks at an earlier stage; when the findings are integrated into internal processes, they enhance your capacity for proactive detection and intervention. At OsintCTI, we provide support in cataloguing, monitoring, and structured IOC feeds.
