

Please Read Before Cutting

The .CNC file included in this folder was created using a 0.6mm tip tool during tool pathing.

The kerf width will need to be adjusted at the plasma table if you are not going to be utilizing a 0.6mm tip. An improper kerf width can produce a finished model/part that is not the intended size.