The Seven Levels of "I" ... To Be "INvolved" in My Life

The Seven Levels of "I" is a self-reflective and scientific framework for personal and planetary development. The process is designed to guide each participant "I" (the reader) through a journey of discovery into the universe that exists inside and outside of the self. The experience is as unique as you are! No two individual "I's" will share an identical experience.

The Seven Levels of "I" is designed to empower the participant "I" to reclaim his/her youthful creativity and imagination. By looking at life through the lens of metaphoric parallel with the Planet Earth, "I" am able to understand my individual perceptions of reality. Being present to my daily life, or "IN" the experience, "I" begin to see, feel and understand many occurrences in very different light.

Donna L. Goodman

As the author of the soon to be published book, A Song of the Rainbow, A Personal Journey into the Seven Levels of "I", Donna Goodman has been an author and presenter of innovative hands-on curriculum programming for children and adults for over ten years. With professional expertise in science, specialized education and corporate leadership, she has identified the seven critical components to the personal/planetary evolutionary process, which are known as levels of "I."

Ms. Goodman has presented this work in cooperation with the United Nations and the Worldview Project for Children's Spirituality and Education. She has taught children and adults in the United States, Israel, India and South Korea. Her greatest teachings in life have come from the experience of parenting three children as a single mom. Writing books and developing workshops that improve the quality of life on this planet is her passion.
