

HOW TO GAIN & RETAIN SUBS WITH THIS DAILY SCHEDULE TEMPLATE + SOCIAL MEDIA GUIDE (REVAMPED)

TIKTOK:

First, you need a professional bio and picture, for the bio you MUST include your age, location, an emoji, and make sure to include “link on insta ;)” so you don’t get shadow banned, meaning it will be harder to find your account then you’ll lose money in the long run, and I know very well you aren’t doing all this hard work for charity lmao

Now that your profile is set up, let's get into the content and scheduling.

What works for our models is seeing what the top Onlyfans creators are doing, and copying it.

Right now flash trends are sorta working but it all depends on your audience size. Again I recommend following other OF models and copying what they're doing, but with your own little twist so it's unique :)

From the hashtags to the video idea itself, etc.

The best hashtags to use are #fakebody #fyp #baddie #thicc #onlyfri3nds, and whatever hashtags work for you in your niche, but mandatory ones are the hashtags that are in bold, just so your account doesn't get shadowbanned/banned.

When you go to post TikTok make sure the "allow HD posting" box is ticked, making your videos look super clean and professional which will make dudes more eager to sub to your page.

Also, make sure to post 2-3 times a day, the algorithm will favor you more so you get more and more views.

Consistency matters as well, if you post 3 times per day for 2 months then suddenly stop TikTok won't push your videos how they used to, again this is why consistency matters.

This works every single time if you follow these exact steps, now to discuss WHEN you should post to get the most engagement.

Quick note, don't get overwhelmed with posting 3 times per day, you can literally take a Sunday, record some tiktoks for the week, then you can schedule them through your laptop or desktop, then boom, you save yourself time and stress during the week while boosting your engagement like crazy

The best times to post are 10 am, 6 pm, and 1 am.

These are the times when people scroll TikTok, especially your target audience

Now, if you want to bring in more views, you can take these times and look them up at different times to maximize how many people see your videos, it isn't as hard as it sounds given you can schedule TikToks on your laptop/desktop.

Here are some pages you can follow for content ideas:

Before we move on, let's talk about TikTok being banned soon, don't worry. There's an app called Clapper it's exactly like TikTok, to be honest, Clapper is way better to promote your content on anyhow.

It's less strict, there are no worries of it disappearing and the algorithm makes it easier to blow up on, personally, I have a TikTok and Clapper page, and my Clapper page has done better views and follower-wise just by letting the organic traffic come through and of course by using the correct hashtags.

Plus, why not set it up now and start posting so you have somewhere to funnel your audience so you don't lose any money? Always have to be ahead of the game, especially in such a lucrative business model.

Now let's move on to Reddit:

Karma/Followers

Karma is a voting system. Users can upvote or downvote posts and comments. The score (upvotes minus downvotes) on each post determines its position.

Posts with the highest score among all posts submitted around the same time are shown on top of a subreddit.

Upvotes are crucial because they move your posts to the front of communities where people see them

Also, DO NOT use any upvote services on your posts, Reddit is cracking down and they're banning anyone who uses these systems, as long as you post in the right subreddits that make sense to you, the content you post, and post consistently, you'll be good.

Having lots of followers is super important because it means your posts rapidly get upvotes and will land you on the hot page more often

Make sure your Reddit name is as close to your OF name as possible, also choose a high-quality profile picture so it catches potential buyers' eyes.

When setting up your profile make sure to attach all of your links including the Onlyfans one to the top of your page, and always have your OF link under each Reddit post, it makes it easier for people to find.

WHERE TO POST??

There are so many Only fans and non-Only fans subreddits that are ideal for promoting content, here are some direct OF subreddits:

Use your ethnicity to your advantage, there are so many subreddits dedicated to these ethnicities and people who are into that specifically

MAKE SURE TO READ EVERY SUBREDDITS RULES, these are absolute goldmines for promoting, so don't mess this up for yourself.

WHAT TO POST??

Your content should fit the niche of the subreddits to get the most engagement possible. Make sure it entices the viewers to want to see more of you

Now for your personal Reddit page, post more exclusive content for your followers, it'll create a scarcity in which more people will follow/visit your page.

Videos/gifs posts tend to perform way better than photos do. Prioritizing these WILL blow you up faster than you think.

USE THESE SITES TO CREATE THESE AS THEY ARE REDDIT-SUPPORTED:

<https://imgur.com/>

<https://www.redgifs.com/>

HOW TO POST??

Make sure to post different pics/videos. Don't just use one and flood different subreddits it will kill your engagement plus you'll get banned quickly.

As long as your profile is diverse and interesting you'll be good.

Sharing pictures to different subreddits is fine just spread it out over a few days. Wait some time before submitting the same picture

NEVER advertise in the title or comments unless the subreddit explicitly allows it.

Avoid posting in promotional subreddits. Focus on building a following through normal NSFW subreddits.

Post at the same time you would for Tik Tok, these are the best times to post.

10 am, 6 pm, 1 am.

Also, be sure to create eye-catching titles and try not to repeat them. Ask engaging questions to gain traction, like something cute and witty.

For example, if you like to game, post a revealing picture of you playing video games and caption it, "wanna play Fortnite with me? ;)"

Or if you're into cars you could say, "Who can help me find a new exhaust system for my BMW M3 build? ;)" also in revealing clothing related to fixing cars.

TWITTER/X:

First, what I see work the best is when models funnel their X from their Instagrams n Tik Tok, the X page is the first thing they are looking for other than your OF, it is where they can engage with you the most and get to see all your nsfw posts and pics

Also, i recommend you buy an aged account just so when you get on there n start changing everything, posting, and engaging X won't mark it as suspicious since the account is older, you can get one from Z2U.

Verifying the account should be the first thing you do, it'll add way more trust with the potential buyers and viewers because everyone knows now that you have to pay to be verified.

When it comes to X, it's all about building a core community, engaging with your audience, and getting into paid promo group chats with a bunch of other models. These GC's models will post each other on their pages for more engagement obviously.

X is also super easy because you can post a somewhat spicy pic and it'll go crazy engagement wise, as long as you are consistent with posting, and find different ways to spice it up and do different things, you'll gain a following fast

Especially if you look similar to some of the models in that GC their fans will sub to your page asap, which is a beautiful thing about those paid GC's

Now when it comes to page setup, having a unique banner is key, you could do 2 different spicy pics of yourself with your name somewhere in there to grab their attention, or it can just be your name with your OF username.

Be sure to use colors and fonts that are bright and eye-catching. Also, your pfp should be something simple with your face showing.

For your bio make sure it's persuasive, direct, and make sure your call to action is on point, pretty much telling potential fans how they can subscribe to you.

The call to action can be something like “hey baby my page is 75% off right now cum talk to me ;)”

Also, having some info about you in the bio would help a lot too, similar to how that TikTok bio is at the beginning of this guide.

One more thing, having a solid pinned call to action on your profile for your OF would do great because it'll always be the first thing people see when visiting your page, just make sure it includes at least 1 pic and some info about you.

If this gets too overwhelming you don't have to do it but it's a great way to farm more engagement to your page, pretty much you can a separate SFW page, and dive into a niche dudes commonly like and start posting content about that.

For example, you could do Kick/Twitch streams playing video games, or doing IRL stuff. You could also make videos on fixing cars going to the gym etc.

Because X itself is very niche-oriented and some people don't see NSFW content that often, so if you find another way to get in front of them by some of the examples i gave you should 2x your engagement on the NSFW account.

If you want some inspiration to make your profile fire, you can use Sophie Rain, itzjasminedior, and soogz1 profiles for examples.

When it comes to posting I'd say do one pic per day and throw in some videos every other day, it'll gain trust with the viewers and show you're a real person, these videos don't have to be too crazy.

You can post something like "big tiddies thread, ladies do your thing" or "Say hi or get blocked", I see posts like these go crazy all the time and as you grow your community you'll get more and more engagement on those types of posts

Also following sports would go crazy for you, if it's football season throw on a football jersey n take a spicy pic with it on, the same thing for baseball, hockey, soccer, etc.

Especially if any major sporting event is coming up like the World Series, the Super Bowl, the World Cup, and so forth, the engagement would be way better since all the focus, especially from dudes, is on those things like sports n such.

Engaging with meme pages is a good way to farm engagement just because that's relatable and it'll make people want to visit your page once they see your pfp.

Now, if you have a decent amount of time to yourself during the day you could comment bait, pretty much let's say you come across a post seeing a big butt thread, you can post a pic under and caption it "I'm better" or "Mines bigger".

It's an easy way to bring in more engagement especially if it's from models you've never seen before you'll funnel some of her audience to your page and make more money.

HOW TO RETAIN SUBSCRIBERS?

This is the easiest part, one way you can retain subs is by getting them ready for what's to come the next day.

You can mention a new outfit you'll be using, a video idea, a collaboration, etc.

Also doing live streams on OF where you play games is key to retaining.

Especially if your page isn't free it will make fans want to stay because they think they'll have a chance at getting one of these prizes.

For example, you can play Spin the Wheel and charge $5-$10 per spin depending on how many subs you have.

The same concept can go for Pop the Balloon, another game you can play is Twister.

Each section can include, a free custom pic/video, a free one-month sub, a free 5-minute private call, etc.

Quick note, but for OF live streams you'll see better results doing them on a weekend like Friday or Saturday. People always get paid then plus the majority of people have off or stay up late because it's the weekend

You can promote the live stream on Tuesday and Wednesday via X, then on Thursday you can do a Tik Tok live and let people know you're doing a spicier version of this live on your "spicy" or "fun" page.

Saying "only fans" will get you shadow-banned fast.

Another way to retain subs is by talking to them differently. Let's say you have a fan spending 500+ a month, you need to talk to him differently versus a fan who's only paying for the subscription charge.

Your subscription charge matters a lot too, the sweet spot is between $6-$8, and anyone can afford that,

Also, look at when your fans' subscriptions are about to end, leverage this to send them out a free video thanking the subscriber for their support.

This will leave them eager to stay and it's a great way to upsell content in the future.

Also, categorizing your subscribers is super important to keep them around, for example, let's say your fan is more of a butt person rather than a chest type of person, put a peach emoji next to his name so you know how to cater to his interests.

This same concept goes for any specific kink or desire your fan has.

A couple more things about gaining and retaining fans, I shouldn't be telling you this but im generous enough to only because I actually want to help you.

When they first subscribe to your page, take the first 10-15 messages to understand the fan's desires, kinks, and special nicknames they like.

This will make the fan think "Wow, she's actually interested in getting to know me, I'm gonna spend so much money with her."

Also, take the nickname and replace it with the fan's name on OF, it'll make it easier in the long run to remember his nickname.

Adding important details about the fan to notes, near his name, is super important so you can leverage that and keep the fan for the long term. Such as how tall they are, eye color, where they're from, favorite hobbies, what they do for work, etc.
