

Public Safety Risk!

Public School and Library Staff Unaccountable to American Families

The trend of supplying children with sexually and age inappropriate material in county and school libraries has reached a boiling over point with American parents. The fact is, many childrens' books have hetero and LGB sexual themes, with 'instructional' text and pictures. Other childrens' books which encourage a focus on pronoun use and trans ideology are being purchased with tax payer funds, filling the shelves of the youth and young adult (teen) shelves. The trans ideology encourages rebellion against social norms represent a healthy aspect of a well functioning society for all American citizens.

Exposing children to this material can be a cause of major confusion: overwhelming an immature mind and obscuring the innate connection a person has to their God given anatomy. A child doesn't have a mature brain after all, until 25 years of age according to widely accepted medical findings.

1. WHO is in need of help? Family members and concerned citizens that want action taken to protect children utilizing school and county libraries from highly objectionable and non educational material. Hetero, LGB pornographic and trans ideology story lines woven through the tax payer funded libraries is unwanted by most NV and American families.
2. HOW have things gotten to this point? Staff in charge of purchasing books, which often take guidance from the highly discredited American Library Association, provide sexually charged, instructional materials that are not academic but purely salacious at our schools and public libraries.
3. WHAT'S the harm? NV Legislators have drafted Legislation AB416 to charge parents with a Felony for strongly opposing the presence of these books in youth spaces. In packed libraries meetings with local moms and dads, grandparents and young single people who repeatedly request these books be moved away from children areas are ignored. Tax payer funded staff act in HOSTILE, UNACCOUNTABLE ways toward this community. Perhaps libraries that refuse to serve family concerns should be evaluated as to whether their existence creates harm or real value for the people they are intended to serve.

IMPORTANT: Read about the troubled ALA , a global enterprise that partners with communist governments. See the ALA website on their disturbing position of removing the authority of the parental role of children checking out age inappropriate and highly sexual content material. Right To Read program. Read

Solution 1 ~ If you want safer materials for your children in the institutions your tax money pays for, here are some things you can do quickly.

1. Call and email library staff, directors, and county supervisors know you want your county and state to disconnect with the ALA immediately!
2. Demand that only wholesome books be purchased for school and county libraries.
3. Sexually inappropriate material needs to be immediately removed from schools.
4. This same material needs to be immediately pulled out of the children/youth areas and to not be permitted to be checked out by minors at the county public libraries.

Many States have terminated the ALA ~ Why?

- 1) Hostile position toward concerned parents
- 2) Their insistence upon curating sexually charged, salacious youth collections
- 3) Guiding their members employed at school and county libraries to purchase these collections.

Solution 2 ~ Call and email library staff, directors, and county supervisors know you want your county and state to offer an alternative to ALA, such as the World Library Association

The World Library Association aims to provide model policies, trainings and assistance based on “political neutrality” and “common sense” to public and school libraries. Dan Kleinman, a community library watchdog ran a website for 10 years detailing bizarre political activism for LGB and Trans material aimed at youth in libraries. According to Kleinman, who founded The World Library Association says the organization will “offer financial assistance to parents involved in legal battles over sexually explicit content within public and school libraries.”

“School policies right now recommend, basically that anything goes and that it’s literally age discrimination to keep a child from any material,” Kleinman said. “New policy guidance from the World Library Association is going to recommend that schools follow laws or case laws like Board of Education vs. Pico, a 1982 U.S. Supreme Court case that allows schools to remove educationally unsuitable and pervasively vulgar materials and to do so immediately. So schools now can have books that are for children that comply with common sense, the law and community standards, instead of what's going on in the news right now.”¹
