Orson Aguilar Appointed to California Senate Steering Committee on Minority Economic Development

Los Angeles, CA — Orson Aguilar, Executive Director of Latino Prosperity, has been appointed to the Steering Committee of the California Senate Select Committee on Minority Economic Development. The appointment was extended by Senator Susan Rubio, Chair of the Select Committee, in recognition of Aguilar’s leadership in advancing equitable economic opportunities for historically underrepresented communities.

The Steering Committee is a brain trust of distinguished leaders from across the state, charged with advising on strategy, policy priorities, and community engagement to promote inclusive economic growth. Aguilar will contribute to shaping a statewide agenda focused on innovation, access to capital, entrepreneurship, and workforce advancement.

“I’m honored to join this powerful effort to create real, lasting economic opportunities for communities that have too often been left behind,” said Aguilar. “I look forward to working alongside leaders from across California to build a more just and prosperous future.”

The Select Committee will convene its first hearing on July 10 at the State Capitol in Sacramento, followed by additional hearings in the Bay Area and Los Angeles.

About LatinoProsperity

LatinoProsperity is a national nonprofit organization dedicated to closing the Latino wealth gap through national, state, and local advocacy. Our core strategy focuses on relentless advocacy for equitable policies that empower Latinos to build and sustain wealth. We bring together leaders from diverse sectors, conduct research to inform our policy recommendations, and advocate vigorously for their adoption and implementation. Our efforts are rooted in the lived experiences of Latino community members and enriched by insights from academics, community organizations, government, and business leaders.
