

Consultancy Disclaimer

Last updated: Friday 13th March 2026

The consultancy services provided by Sentinel Event Advisory are offered solely for professional advisory purposes.

Our role is to provide independent, evidence-based advice to support organisations in the planning, governance and delivery of safe, well-managed events. Unless specifically agreed in writing, Sentinel Event Advisory does not assume responsibility for the operational management, delivery or control of an event.

Scope of Consultancy

Sentinel Event Advisory provides independent consultancy across areas including:

- Event planning
- Event safety
- Operational planning and readiness
- Event medical advisory
- Risk management
- Governance and compliance
- Documentation review and development
- Independent assurance

Recommendations, reports and assessments are developed using:

- information provided by the client;
- site visits and observations where appropriate;
- relevant legislation;
- recognised industry guidance; and
- professional knowledge and experience.

Where appropriate, this may include guidance published by organisations such as:

- The Health and Safety Executive (HSE)
- The Purple Guide to Health, Safety and Welfare at Music and Other Events
- National Protective Security Authority (NPSA)
- ProtectUK
- Relevant local authority guidance
- Other recognised professional or regulatory bodies

Responsibility for Decision Making

Sentinel Event Advisory provides advice and recommendations to assist clients in making informed decisions.

Responsibility for accepting, implementing and managing those recommendations remains with the client organisation.

Unless specifically contracted to provide ongoing support, Sentinel Event Advisory does not direct, supervise or manage event operations, contractors, suppliers or event personnel.

Clients remain responsible for ensuring compliance with all applicable legislation, licence conditions and regulatory requirements.

Information Provided

Our advice is based upon the information made available to us at the time of the engagement.

Where information provided by a client or third party is incomplete, inaccurate or changes after advice has been issued, the suitability of that advice may be affected. Sentinel Event Advisory cannot accept responsibility for decisions based upon incomplete or inaccurate information supplied by others.

Professional Opinion

Consultancy recommendations represent our professional opinion at the time they are issued.

Events are dynamic environments and circumstances may change before or during an event.

Clients should ensure that planning remains under continual review and that decisions continue to reflect the prevailing circumstances, emerging risks and operational conditions.

No Guarantee of Outcome

Risk can be reduced through effective planning and management but can never be eliminated entirely.

Sentinel Event Advisory cannot guarantee that incidents, accidents, emergencies or disruptions will not occur.

The successful management of risk depends upon the implementation of appropriate control measures, effective communication and competent operational management by those responsible for the event.

Independence

Sentinel Event Advisory operates as an independent consultancy.

Advice is provided objectively and is not influenced by commercial relationships, commission arrangements or preferred supplier agreements.

Where recommendations are made regarding suppliers or service providers, they are based solely upon the client's requirements and the circumstances of the event.

Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Sentinel Event Advisory shall not be liable for any indirect, consequential or economic loss arising from the use of consultancy advice, documentation or recommendations.

Nothing within this disclaimer excludes or limits liability where such exclusion or limitation would be unlawful.

Questions About This Disclaimer

If you have any questions regarding this disclaimer, please contact:

Sentinel Event Advisory

Email: contact@sentinelmedicaladvisory.co.uk