

ARENA MOREIRA

Born and raised in Dallas, Texas, Arena Moreira began dance training at the age of three. She trained extensively in jazz drill, ballet, contemporary, and high kick at Dance Industry Performing Arts Center and R.L. Turner High School. She served as an elite team member and junior lieutenant on her high school drill team. In her senior year, she trained with the Dance Industry Drill Company under the direction of Lauren Schieffer & Megan Cook. Arena is an award-winning choreographer for her elite jazz routine, which was performed by the R.L. Turner Lionette's. Currently, she is a sophomore at Brookhaven College, where she is majoring in Political Science and Dance. Arena enjoys the opportunity to create and share through teaching.
