

CORY FINN

Cory Finn is originally from Southern California where he trained and had the honor to work with such tap legends as Gregory Hines, Henry LeTang, Sam Webber, Mark Mendonca and his own father Freddie Finn. He has performed with various tap companies and stage productions including Rhapsody in Taps, Power Tap and Men at Work. Some of his commercial credits include Toyota, Dr Pepper, Taco Bell, and Disney. He has also taught for numerous national convention circuits including LA Underground, LA Dance Magic, NUVO, Hollywood Vibe and Pacific Coast Dance Fest. Cory's Passion for tap dance paired with his enthusiasm and encouragement in his classes has made him highly sought after. His Dynamic and energetic choreography and his ability to make tap fun and accessible has fostered a genuine love for the art form amongst his devoted students. Cory is so thrilled to joining the Dance Industry family and looks forward to making some amazing memories and spreading the joy of tap dance to the next generation of dancers.
