

Company History

“Married Without Children” features real-life married couple Andrew McCammon and Erin Island accompanied by friend and talented Musical Director, Jules Dekker. Andrew and Erin have performed together for almost 15 years doing sketch comedy, improv, comedic video shorts, and gameshows all over the world. They met Jules while performing at Boom Chicago in Amsterdam and were thrilled to have him as part of the world premiere of “Married Without Children.”

Andrew McCammon

Most recently Andrew was a mainstage cast member and teacher at Boom Chicago. Prior to that, he was the host of “The Price is Right Live” on Norwegian Cruise Lines. He has performed as an understudy on the mainstage, e.t.c. theatre, and Touring Company for The Second City Chicago. He is a member of the improv and writing faculties and a director for the Conservatory Program at The Second City Training Center.

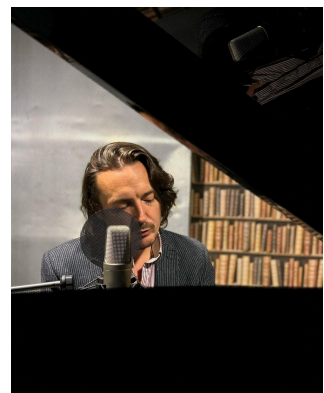

Erin Island

Erin was most recently a mainstage cast member and teacher at Boom Chicago in Amsterdam. She was the announcer for “The Price is Right Live” on Norwegian Cruise Lines. She has performed on house teams at iO Theatre and The Second City in Chicago as well as The B Street Theatre in Sacramento, California.

Jules Dekker

Jules is a Dutch musician who studied music in France as well as at the Summer Performance Program at Berklee College of Music and The Abbey Road Institute. He is a Musical Director at Boom Chicago and for several independent teams in Amsterdam.

Show Synopsis

“Married Without Children” is part sketch comedy, part improv, and even part gameshow! Leave the kids at home (if you bothered to have them) for this interactive comedy show featuring real-life married couple Andrew and Erin. See how raunchy, rowdy, and ridiculous things can get between a married comedy couple without kids. Watch as Erin and Andrew explore various emotions and sexual positions and even give away a special title to one lucky audience member! You’ll laugh. You’ll cry. And you’ll invest in birth control as you enjoy watching “Married Without Children.”

What Audiences are Saying:

“Married Without Children was CRAZY fun!”

“These two are our kind of delulu.”

"We don't judge kinks here."

"Please make this a game show on TV!"

*"This show! Chef's Kiss"*

"I swear my face hurts this morning from laughing at Erin Island and Andrew McCammon's standing ovation 'Married Without Children' show last night. What a freaking riot."

Company Goals

The goal of this production is to tour! We would love for this interactive show to be featured on cruise ships and in regional theatres all over the world! It is an enjoyable, relatable, and marketable show that is easily produced and can be adapted toward different locations and audiences. Eventually, we would love to become household names as comedians and hosts by having a show or game show on a popular network. Our "brand" as a married couple is genuine and accentuated by the fact that we also have separate styles on our own.
