

November 2019 Program Recap

'It's All Interconnected'

Recommending "The Hidden Life of Trees" as a reference, Rick Barnes of Downey Tree Service discussed the interconnectivity of trees, plants and other organisms and how they communicate with each other to warn of disease, predators and climate conditions.

Methods used for communication include wind-borne pheromones and chemical signals through extensive root systems.