The Story: One of our virtual stylists at Reset normally wears a “special” outfit once. After getting a photo in it at an event, she would give it away (with no hesitation).

The Business: So, we thought why not build a relationship with people who commit this kind of fashion crime? (pun intended 😊) You either choose to sell for them or buy, reform/restore then resell.

Elevate your packaging: Tell the story of each clothing. Who wore it, where and when? This is how you add a timeless value to the product.
