

McCARTHY'S

IRISH WHISKEY

Description

McCarthy's Irish Whiskey is a blend of single grain and single malt Irish whiskey. The grain is the majority component and its natural smoothness is complimented by the spicier depth of the malt. The blend is finished in Oloroso Sherry casks for added flavour tone and depth.

Provenance

The whiskey is distilled at the Great Northern Distillery in Dundalk, County Louth in the Republic of Ireland. The great Northern Distillery (GND) is the leading independent Irish distillery in terms of capacity and is a distiller of considerable renown. Irish Whiskey is now subject to special status as a protected Geographical Indication (GI) by the EU, meaning that any product bearing that label must adhere to strict guidelines governing its blending, production, marketing and more. This is a momentous achievement for the Irish whiskey industry which ensures that the traditions and high standards of the Irish whiskey category are protected in the EU and globally.

Tasting Notes

It has flavours of rich lemon curd, yellow apple and fresh wholemeal biscuit and a warm cinnamon spice finish.
