WE ARE LEGAL SPEND MANAGEMENT

With our in-house claims litigation technology, LegalSRM™, we can significantly reduce your expense ratio - frequently providing savings in the region of 6%.

We recognise that claims teams are frequently inundated with overwhelming amounts of spreadsheets and don't have the time or the resource to spend appropriate time reviewing or actioning them.

A wealth of performance insights can be extracted from our market-leading technology to track the performance of panel law firms and TPAs to help you determine critical success factors for your law firms and claims teams, providing true performance metrics on everything from the claim lifecycle, average cost per claim value (type/claim) to your internal claims handling behaviour and overall speed of claims handling.

With over 30 data points available to analyse we can help performance manage your law firms, saving you the time and the effort, while most importantly providing information on where efficiencies and significant cost savings can be realised.

You will receive performance insights through our analytical dashboard for in-house reporting. Global insurers are already using LegalSRM and the leading insurance law firms are already integrated with our technology, meaning you can be up and running to start realising unheard of savings almost immediately.
