Details about the role

Coote O'Grady is an award-winning expert in legal spend management. It works with some of the world's largest organisations to ensure they're making the most of their legal budget.

We have several vacancies for Solicitors / Legal Executives within our growing Legal Operations team, based in Boldon, Tyne & Wear. This team provides a valuable service to in-house legal teams and Insurance Claims Teams, allowing them to focus on more high-value legal tasks.

We are looking for individuals who could take responsibility for various Legal Operations activities for clients, including legal invoice review, law firm rate negotiations, legal panel review, client spend analysis and other legal procurement activity.

We will consider also favourably candidates with transferrable skills such as Accountancy, Auditing or Procurement who can evidence relevant career experience.

As a flexible organisation, you will be able to manage your work from home through our secure working environment. However, you may be required to attend meetings local to Boldon, Tyne & Wear, so ability to travel to this location once a week is essential.

Specific Role requirements:

- Laptop/PC, appropriate home-working environment and reliable internet connection required (we will provide licenses)
- There may be a requirement for the post-holder to travel to and attend client meetings, as relevant to this role; and
- Attend training and development courses, as required.
