Providing Higher Education for the Children of Kenya

Currently, one third of Kenyans are living below the poverty line. Roughly 15.9 million out of 42 million Kenyans are poor and earning wages between $29 to $55 U.S. Dollars per month.

As a result, many young people are forced to go without food and education. By working together we can help make a difference!

The capital of Kenya is Nairobi and located in Nairobi is Africa's largest and poorest slum called Kibera. Also located on the outskirts of Nairobi is the Tommie Fulp Adventist Academy, which is a school offering low-cost education.

The school is working hard to help improve the quality of life for its young people, but it needs your assistance to continue the work. Help us help more young people by pledging to make a monthly donation of any amount. One hundred percent of your donation will go directly to finishing the building of the school and for helping the students.

Currently we have many needs, including finishing the construction of our new classrooms, purchasing a new bus for the students, and meeting our monthly budget to pay our teachers and staff timely each month. By working together, TOFAA Academy will continue enriching the lives of so many children.
