About Me

Hi, I'm Jess! A freelance illustrator based in Northern Ireland, with a background in animation and fine art. I specialise in portrait commissions and live wedding & event illustration, creating personalised portraits of everything from your guests to your pets!

My work focuses entirely on people: capturing character, connection, and expression through hand-drawn portraits. Working live at weddings allows me to create meaningful keepsakes that couples and their guests can take home and treasure.

When you book my services, you're investing in a unique, hand-illustrated experience and a collection of thoughtfully created portraits that reflect the people who made your day special. I'd love to be part of your celebration!
