IF IN DOUBT REPORT IT

Dangerous Occurrences

In the event of any of the following:

- Explosion/collapse of closed vessel/boiler
- Electrical explosion/fire
- Control of Substances Hazardous to Health (COSHH REGULATIONS)

Assessment

The assessment must be a systematic review following the following guidelines:

- What substances are present and in what form?
- What harmful effects are possible?
- Where and how are the substances used or handled?
- What harmful effects are given off, etc.?

- Who could be affected, to what extent and for how long?
- Under what circumstances?
- How likely is it that exposure will happen?
- What precautions need to be taken to comply with the COSHH Regulations?
- What procedures need to be put in place to comply with the Control of Asbestos at Work Regulations 2002?

Prevention or Control

The Health and Safety Officer must ensure that the exposure of staff members, learners and volunteers to hazardous substances is prevented or, if this is not reasonably practicable adequately controlled.

Based on the assessment, the employer must decide which control measures are appropriate to the work situation to deal effectively with any hazardous substances that may be present. This may mean PREVENTING exposure by:

- Removing the hazardous substance by changing the process
- Substituting with a safe or safer substance, or using a safer form

Or, if this is not reasonably practicable, CONTROLLING exposure by

- Totally enclosing the process
- Using partial enclosure and extraction equipment
- General ventilation
- Using safe systems of work and handling procedures.

It is for the employer / tutor to choose the method of controlling the exposure and to examine and test control measures, if required.

The Regulations limit the use of Personal Protective Equipment (e.g. dust masks, respirators, protective clothing) as the means of protection of those situations ONLY where other measures cannot adequately control exposure.

Football Family will provide any staff, learners or volunteers and, so far as is reasonably practicable, other persons on site who may be exposed to substances hazardous to health, with suitable and sufficient information, instruction and training to that they know the risks they run and the precautions they must take.

The Health and Safety Officer must ensure that anyone who carries out any task in connection with their duties under COSHH has enough information, instruction and training to do the job properly.

Fire Prevention

Has the Fire brigade been consulted on?

- The number and width of escape routes to provide a ready means of escape from all parts of the premises?
- Emergency lighting and its maintenance?
- The most suitable way of raising an alarm in the event of fire
- The contents of fire instruction notices?
- The numbers and types of fire extinguishers or other fire-fighting appliances which should be provided?
- Precautions to be taken with any activities involving the use of flammable liquids, naked flames, or heating processes?
- The desirability of battening or clipping seats together in sets of four where moveable seats are used for large audiences?
- The maximum number of people who should be allowed on the premises at any one time
- Are seating and gangways in the hall/rooms so arranged as to allow free and easy access direct to fire exits?
- Are exit doors always unlocked before the start of any session and kept unlocked until the last person leaves?
- Are escape routes and exit doors clearly sign-posted and marked so that anyone not familiar with the building can quickly see the ways out?
- Are escape routes and exit doors never allowed to become obstructed or hidden by chairs, stage props, curtains etc.?
- Are fire extinguishers, hose reels and fire alarm systems (where provided) regularly maintained by specialist fire engineering firms?
- Are staff/duty officers trained to use this equipment?

Health and Safety Policy

- Is equipment kept in its proper position and always clearly visible and unobstructed?
- Are thorough close-down checks made of all parts of the premises at the end of an evening or session?
- No smouldering fires or cigarettes left burning?
- Heater and cookers turned off?

- Heating appliances fitted with adequate and secure fire guards?
- If portable heaters must be used, are they securely fixed and kept away from combustible materials?
- Precautions to ensure that convector type heaters are not covered with clothes and curtains?
- Temporary extensions or additions to the electrical installation carried out and checked by a competent electrician?
- Enough socket outlets provided to obviate the need for long trailing flexes
- Damaged leads replaced regularly?
- Cooking operations supervised by a reliable person?
- All parts of the premises kept clear of waste and rubbish, particularly staircases, space under stairs, storerooms, attics, and boiler rooms?

Health and Safety Inspection

- A Health and Safety inspection of the building should be undertaken at least every six months. One of these inspections may be undertaken at the same time as the annual building maintenance check.

Health and Safety Policy

- Appointed members of the management team, or a sub-group, should arrange to meet and carry out the inspection with the Health and Safety Officer
- This inspection group will need to agree how each question needs to be answered
- When the form is complete and has been signed, matters noted as not satisfactory, together with any other concerns raised by the inspection, should be reported to the management team.
- The inspection group should be authorised, where URGENT action is necessary, to make immediate reasonable response
- The whole form should be made available to members of the management team
- The forms should be preserved in an online file maintained for this purpose. As required action is taken, the responsible person should initial that these actions have been completed.

Risk Assessment

- Risk assessments relate to activities within the premises or grounds
- Risk assessments NEED to be carried out in relation to every activity undertaken, whether by groups or individuals and including the work of paid staff AND volunteers
- Special attention should be paid to the circumstances of workers under the age of eighteen and to expectant mothers, women who have given birth within the past six months or who are breastfeeding.

A risk assessment needs to be carried out whenever a new activity is envisaged

Assessments need to be repeated whenever circumstances change:

- Changes in layout of equipment
- Observing trends on the accident form
- Changes in staff
- Introduction of new procedures, processes, or materials.

Display Screen Equipment

Who is a Display Screen User?

Health and Safety Policy

The regulations are for the protections of workers (including self-employed workers and volunteers) who habitually use display screen equipment for a significant part of their normal work.

In some cases, it will be clear that the use of Display Screen Equipment is continuous on most days and the individual concerned should be regarded as users. Where use is less continuous, 'user' status would apply if most or all the following criteria are met:

- The individual depends on the use of display screen equipment to do the job, as alternative means are not readily available for achieving the same results.
- The individual has no discretion as to the use or non-use of the display screen equipment
- The individual needs significant training and/or skills in the use of display screen equipment to do the job
- The individual uses display screen equipment in this way daily
- Fast transfer of information between the user and the screen is an important requirement of the job
- The performance requirements of the system demand high levels of attention and concentration by the user; for example, where the consequences of error may be critical.

Workers' Entitlement

Eye Test

Any worker covered by the Regulations is entitled to request an eye and eyesight test which will be paid for by the employer. Workers should inform their line manager, who will provide them with the forms to take to an option of the worker's choice.

A worker may request a test if he/she:

- Is already a user for a significant part of his/her work
- Is about to start using display screen equipment for a significant part of his/her work
- Is experiencing visual difficulties which may reasonably be related to display screen work
- It is recommended by an optician at the time of an eye examination that the worker should have eye tests at regular intervals.

Spectacles

If because of the eye test a worker requires spectacles solely for use with display screen equipment, he/she is entitled to reimbursement of the cost of a basic pair. If the worker wishes to choose more costly spectacles (e.g. a more expensive frame), the employer is not obliged to pay the full cost of these. In this event the worker will only be reimbursed for the cost of basic spectacles.

If as a result of the tests spectacles are required for normal use, e.g. reading or distance vision, but which may also include display screen equipment use, under the Regulations the employer is not required to make reimbursement beyond the cost of the eyesight test and the report.

This Policy will be renewed annually.
