

Chris Heeter

is an award-winning speaker, wilderness guide, and poet who challenges teams and leaders to reconnect with their Wild selves—authentic, powerful, and refreshingly human. With storytelling rooted in dog mushing, nature, and bold honesty, she crafts unforgettable, tailored experiences that spark connection, courage, and change.

Watch Chris Heeter in Action

Corporate Keynote - Wild Leadership

Built for organizations navigating change and growth. Chris helps teams work with the personalities and gifts of each team member to harness their energy and unique skills.

- Learn how to guide your team through change where everyone stays onboard and engaged.
- Stop managing people and start inspiring them.
- Be You...and help them Be Them.
- Get to yes together while understanding and appreciating differences
- Hone your communication skills to truly support each other and gel as a team

Bonus - Our Sustainable Speaking Initiative helps you identify some practical ways to make your events more eco-friendly. It is a "Choose Your Own Adventure" activity where you can build on whatever sustainability efforts you already have in place. Participation is optional. It's our way of supporting your efforts in designing sustainable meetings and events.

Chris will refund a portion of her speaking fee, to help support clients in their sustainability efforts (based on their level of commitment).

Your next event can be a catalyst for meaningful change.

Let's connect about availability and how Chris can tailor her keynote to align with your goals.

Chris Heeter Socials

