The Constant Wife by Somerset Maugham

"Under Adam Henderson's direction everyone skates so competently across the brittle surface of Maugham's dialogue that they could be auditioning for the Ice Capades... The play is wonderfully audacious and this clean production makes it fun to watch."

Colin Thomas in The Georgia Straight

"The manners and mannerisms of the time have been well caught by the cast under Adam Henderson's direction."

This is a delightful production of a humorous, witty, social comedy, very well directed and performed by United Players, good for laughter and enjoyment. It deserves full houses every night."

Jane Peniston in Review Vancouver
