WHAT WE DO:

We design and deliver initiatives to support community and schools rugby, both nationally and internationally, helping participants fulfil their potential through rugby.

Funds raised by the Foundation ensure these initiatives focus on embracing the values of rugby and the rugby family. To achieve this we use local training programmes and exchange experiences, whilst investing in improving equipment and facilities.

WHY WE ARE HERE:

The Foundation was set up in memory of Matt Ratana who was tragically killed on Friday 25 September 2020 whilst on duty in his role as a custody sergeant.

Aside from his distinguished police service, Matt worked tirelessly as a rugby coach and dedicated mentor to many young people. He spoke passionately to the teams he led on the importance of 'Whānau', the sacred Māori concept of family and community. He was an inspirational leader, friend and teacher.

WHO WE ARE:

The Matt Ratana Rugby Foundation, endorsed by Matt's partner, Su Bushby, is run by a diverse group of highly-committed individuals with expertise across the sports, business and charitable sectors.

It is a separate fund under the stewardship of the Atlas Foundation, a UK-registered charity whose mission is to help disadvantaged children work towards a better future through rugby initiatives.

OUR INITIATIVES:

Development programmes

A series of programmes which will help young people to develop life skills through rugby.

Player Exchange programmes

Player exchanges will give young adults the opportunity to develop their love of the game by playing overseas for a season.

Transition to senior rugby

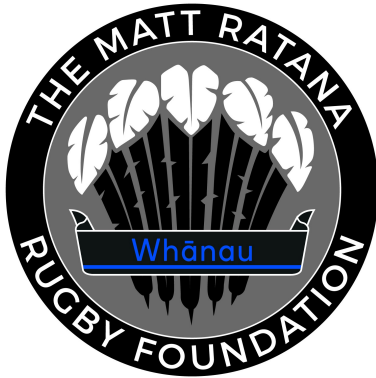

Providing inspirational coaches to clubs to help them retain players. Providing programmes to help clubs retain their young players and encourage adults from all backgrounds to engage with the sport, whether they have played before or not.

Training facilities and equipment

Working with existing facilities, re-purposing equipment and encouraging cross-club initiatives, we want to help those teams who might otherwise struggle to resource players and coaches.

The Whānau way

All our initiatives are inspired by projects Matt either launched or planned to launch. We aim to approach these projects with the same commitment, drive and generosity of spirit Matt inspired.

WHAT WE BELIEVE:

Wellbeing and inclusion

There's a place for everyone in rugby. All our initiatives will be wholly inclusive. Mental and physical wellbeing will be central to all our programmes.

Respect For People and Culture

Rugby celebrates diversity and multiculturalism. Our aim is to help young people develop a greater understanding of each other by sharing life experience through rugby. A focus on friendship, trust and understanding will inform and shape our approach.

Sporting Values

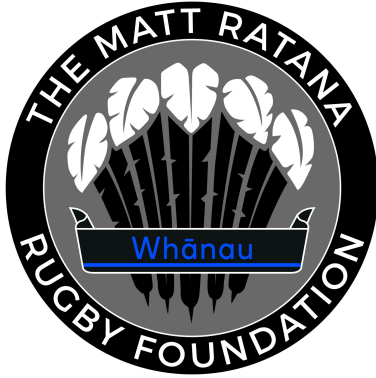

Fair play and integrity underpin the game of rugby. We promote its principles, treating teammates, opponents and officials with respect, and showing humility in victory and defeat.

Team Sport to be Enjoyed

The Foundation believes in the principles and benefits of team sport: Selfless commitment to a team, rewarding on and off the field. The enjoyment of all aspects of rugby, improving health, fitness and life skills. Most importantly, friendship and fun.

Discipline and Fairness

Rugby is a physical sport. We want young people to appreciate the principles of honesty and fairness, and to understand why rules help uphold values, not only in sport but in our daily lives.
