God of might,
 giver of every good gift,
 put into our hearts the love of your

 Through our Lord Jesus Christ,
 your Son,
 who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
 One God, for ever and ever. Amen

SAINT GREGORY THE GREAT FEAST SEPT. 3

Pope Gregory I, commonly known as St. Gregory the Great, was the son of a Roman Senator, he was born around 540 AD and following his father's footsteps, embarked upon a political career eventually becoming Prefect of the city of Rome. Two years later, however, he became a monk, and converted his house in Rome into a monastery.

Recognized for his talent, he was named one of the seven deacons of Rome. Upon the death of Pope Pelagius II in 590, Gregory was elected to succeed him.

As pope, he sent St. Augustine of Canterbury and about thirty monks to convert England. It was Gregory who introduced several changes into the liturgy of the Mass. He was also interested in Church music and promoted a plainchant that now bears his name (Gregorian Chant). He was the first pope to refer to himself as the "Servant of the Servants of God," a title still in use by the popes today.

In his dealing with the Church in Constantinople, he emphasized Rome's primacy, maintaining that all bishops are subject to the Roman See. Gregory died on March 12, 604. Saint Gregory, along with Saints Ambrose, Augustine, and Jerome, is one of the four great Doctors of the Latin Church.

HUMILITY

Today's readings praise the virtue of humility and offer concrete ways for us to become more humble. The Book of Sirach suggests a practical reason for acting with humility: humble people are more likeable than the arrogant. Even God "finds favor" with those who humble themselves. In Luke's Gospel, Jesus provides real-world suggestions for growing in humility and teaches us never to assume we are better than others. His words change our outward behavior and expand our hearts and minds to care about people we might have dismissed before. This practical, almost "folksy" wisdom about humility helps us behave better in daily life and makes our lofty goal of eternal life more accessible. Our reading from Hebrews affirms that heaven is indeed approachable. The personal love and sacrifice of Jesus have opened "the city of the living God" to us. Humility prepares us for paradise.
