

Releasement Therapy Explained

Here are some questions and answers about Releasement Therapy

What is Releasement Therapy?

Releasement Therapy is a process that detects and safely releases entities or lost souls from a person or place and help them into the Light.

Do they all get to go into the Light?

Yes, all of creation is connected to the Creator and therefore has a spark of Creation inside. We help these lost souls recognizes this spark and then they are able to choose to go to the Light.

Do even the dark ones or demons go to the Light?

Yes, we are all part of creation, therefore we all get to go. Their problem is that they have forgotten that they are part of Creation and so they think that they are stuck. They are also told that they cannot leave and go to the Light.

Is this like an exorcism?

No. An exorcism is a violent, fear-based ritual which does little more than “pull the nails out of the tire and throw them up on the road again.” In fact, we have had experience with cases where the client has had an exorcism and the entity (not dark, by the way) returned when he felt it was safe to return. With our method, this lost soul would have gone to the Light and there would be no further issues.

How does the process work?

In a nutshell it is fairly simple. After initial protection all around we investigate for energies that may be entities of one kind or another. After the discovery process we contact them and talk to them very similarly to a regular therapy session. Through a question and answer process we help them realize that they are lost and need to choose to go into the Light. Once they decide to go we ask them to help us check for others and to help remove any and all residual “stuff.” Then we make sure that they get safely into the Light and we then fill the client with the White Light and have protection stand by to maintain the clearing.

By what authority do you do your work?

By the authority of God (or Source Energy.) We could not do this work alone. We have the back-up of St. Michael's Angels and others as well as Jesus, Mary and God Himself. Those who need to come, do. Those of us who do this work are “conduits” of god's Love. Only in this are we able “to march into hell with a heavenly cause.”

Do the clients need to come to you?

No. The unique process allows us to do this work remotely anywhere on the the planet. Once the connection is made we can do this work at any time. The client does not need to do or be anywhere in particular. We will do the work and report back after all is clear.

How long have you been doing this work?

We have been doing this for about thirty years. After the initial training with Dr. Irene Hickman and others we have evolved this process to be simple, effective and above all, wholly and completely Love-based. We could not do this work if we tried it any other way. Love is all there is!
