

Board Directors

Legal Information and Resource Network

The Legal Information and Resource Network (LIRN) is a not-for-profit share capital corporation mandated to effectively evolve the provision of legal information and library services for members of the Law Society of Ontario. The key objectives of LIRN include fulfilling the regulatory mandate to ensure that the public is served by legal professionals with high standards of learning and competence, supporting ongoing learning and development with a specific emphasis on the use and application of legal information, legal research and legal training content and activities, establishing a platform that provides effective access to legal information, and offering a supportive and robust range of services targeted to the needs of users.

Formerly operating as LibraryCo Inc., LIRN now has a new governance structure and renewed mandate to support the progressive provision of legal information and supports to members of the Law Society through the management and allocation of grant funding, ongoing assessment of the system, and strategic development of appropriate service offerings.

LIRN is seeking between five and eight individuals to join its Board of Directors. As the ideal candidate, you are a strategic thinker committed to the competence of legal professionals and with an interest in, and understanding of, the professional development and legal information needs of all legal professionals and county law library users. Your intellectual curiosity and strategic foresight will serve you well, as will your experience serving on the Boards of non-profit organizations. LIRN is committed to ensuring that its Board reflects Ontario's regional diversity and welcomes the interest of qualified candidates residing in all judicial regions of Ontario.

For more information or to apply for this position, please submit your application and related materials to Jona Morton jmorton@boyden.com and state the title of the position in the subject line of your e-mail.

We thank all applicants for their interest, however ONLY those under consideration for the role will be contacted.