What makes Bloomberg Law different?

Transforming information into actionable intelligence.

Bloomberg Law is the only legal practice solution that pairs Bloomberg market data with indispensable, trusted Bloomberg BNA legal content. The platform integrates all of its content – news, analysis, practitioner tools, business intelligence, primary sources, and more – into one seamless experience. Best of all, a subscription to Bloomberg Law provides unlimited access to all of our content and tools.

Enhancing value through constant innovation.

In an uncertain and sometimes rapidly changing business climate, you need a legal research solution that's always finding new ways to enhance your understanding of the latest developments and that provides tools that will help you work more effectively and efficiently. Our team consistently finds ways to enrich the value of our content and functionality, and we enhance Bloomberg Law at no additional cost to the firms and organizations putting their trust in us.

Controlling costs.

By having everything you need for optimized legal work all on one platform, Bloomberg Law enables you to keep control over your resources and spending, so you'll effectively manage costs for your firm or organization and reduce reliance on outside counsel. Every user will have unmetered access to all that Bloomberg Law has to offer – from the latest news stories to a complete dockets search. There's no time or resource limit with Bloomberg Law. Just ease of use and maximum value.

A subscription provides unlimited access to all Bloomberg Law content, tools, and functionality.

Harnessing the power of data analytics.

Bloomberg Law is a market leader in leveraging data analytics to create timesaving tools that expand the boundaries of legal research, boost efficiency, and drive productivity.

Committed to the continuous innovation of our platform at no additional cost to subscribers, Bloomberg Law has introduced critical enhancements such as Docket Key[®], a tool that classifies entries on a docket sheet so you can locate filings easily, quickly, and precisely; Smart Code[®], which identifies on-point extracts of court opinions relating to state and federal codes, regulations, and rules; Draft Analyzer, which finds precedent agreements with ease and highlights where your language differs from market standard with our redline tool; and Litigation Analytics, which searches millions of data points by company, law firm, attorney, court, and judge to help users visualize trends, predict outcomes, and develop an informed strategy.

Points of Law – winner of AALL’s New Product award – speeds up case law research through machine learning, highlighting language critical to a court’s reasoning and linking the language to a related Point of Law.

Our latest enhancement, Brief Analyzer, drastically reduces the time spent analyzing an opponent’s brief, identifying relevant authorities, and preparing a credible response.

In addition, a continuous stream of enhancements contributes to the already great strength of our practice area coverage, from the Labor Arbitration Awards Tracker (L&E Practice Center); to Enforcement Analytics tools that mitigate litigation risk, ensure compliance, and identify market trends (Health and Securities Practice Centers); to Investor Activism Analytics (Corporate Practice Center); and the EU GDPR Developments tool (Privacy & Data Security Practice Center).

And, nearly all our tools include a visual component transforming data into an intuitive, at-a-glance representation of search results.

The screenshot displays the Bloomberg Law Brief Analyzer interface. On the left, a 'Table of Contents' lists sections from 'I. Plaintiffs Are Not Likely to Succeed on Their First Amendment Claim' to 'CONCLUSION'. The main document view shows section 'IV. Plaintiffs Cannot Demonstrate Irreparable Injury.' with a 'LOAD ANALYSIS' button. The text is highlighted in blue, showing legal reasoning: '[T]he injury must be both certain and great; it must be actual and not theoretical.' Wisconsin Gas Co. v. FERC, 758 F.2d 669, 674 (D.C. Cir. 1985). Plaintiffs have not made such a showing. Plaintiffs focus their argument on the claim that because, "[i]n First Amendment cases, the likelihood of success 'will often be the determinative factor' in the preliminary injunction analysis," irreparable harm necessarily flowed from that initial merits determination. Pursuing America's Greatness v. FEC, 831 F.3d 500, 511 (D.C. Cir. 2016) (quoting Joelner v. Vill. of Wash. Park, Ill., 378 F.3d 613, 620 (7th Cir. 2004)); see also Pls.' Br. 19. But, for the reasons stated above, Plaintiffs have not demonstrated a likelihood of success, and therefore they cannot demonstrate irreparable harm based on a supposed constitutional violation. Nor have Plaintiffs independently demonstrated irreparable harm. They speculate that there may be a "chilling effect" by the revocation of Mr. Acosta's hard pass. Pls.' Br. 19, but such speculation is merely "theoretical"; it is not "both certain and great." Wisconsin Gas, 674 F.2d at 674; see also FEC v. GOPAC, Inc., 897 F. Supp. 615, 618-19 (D.D.C. 1995) (holding that political organization's speculation that donors will be chilled from participating in the political process if they are subject to a hard pass is not "both certain and great.")

The right-hand panel shows 'Suggested Content' with a list of cases: 'Equal Rights Ctr. v. Post Props., Inc., 522 F. Supp. 2d 1 (D.D.C. 2007), Court Opinion'. It lists reasons for suggestion: 'Cites Chaplaincy of Full Gospel Churches v. England', 'Contains a point of law found in the argument', 'Is from the same court', and 'Contains similar language like "irreparable injury"'. Below it is 'Sterling Commercial Credit-Mich., LLC v. Phoenix Indus. I, LLC, 762 F. Supp. 2d 8 (D.D.C. 2011), Court Opinion' with similar reasons. The interface also includes 'Download All Cited Authorities', 'Product Tour', and 'Download Center' buttons at the top.

The screenshot displays the Bloomberg Law website interface. At the top, there is a 'Daily Labor Report' section with a 'View and Filter All Stories' link. Below this is the 'Bloomberg BNA Portfolios' section, which includes a 'Set as My Home' and 'Add to My Favorites' option. The main focus is on the 'In Focus: California Consumer Privacy Act' page, which is categorized under 'PRIVACY & DATA SECURITY'. This page features a 'Statutory Text' section with a detailed description of the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), signed into law on June 28, 2018. It also lists 'AS CODIFIED' and 'SESSION LAWS' with links to the relevant California Civil Code sections and laws. A 'Legislative & Regulatory Action' section includes a 'Notice of Proposed Rulemaking' released on October 10, 2019. On the right side of the page, there is an 'Analysis' section with several links to related content, including 'Bloomberg Law 2020', 'Bloomberg Law Analysis', 'Law X.O Podcast', 'Microsoft to Extend CCPA Rights Nationwide; Should You?', 'Draft CCPA Regs Present Compliance Conundrum', 'Five Wins for Business in CCPA Amendments?', 'Summer Updates to California's Blockbuster Privacy Law', 'Where We Stand on CCPA Proposals', and 'Ten Things You Probably Didn't Know About the CCPA'.

Litigation Solutions.

Find key litigation resources for each of the 50 states and Washington, D.C., on the State Litigation Resources pages, including state and federal content, such as statutes, court opinions, jury instructions, and State Statutes of Limitations and Choice of Law tools.

Rely on the Litigation Intelligence Center on Bloomberg Law for expedited access to information essential to litigation practice – from dockets to case law, statutes, Practical Guidance, and news.

Access a court opinion by citation, case name, or keywords through the Search Bar or the specialized Court Opinion Search. Use Points of Law for more efficient and effective case law research. Through the application of machine learning to our database of more than 13 million court opinions, Points of Law speeds up case law research by highlighting language critical to a court's reasoning. You can click through to a generalized Point of Law and the top cases in support of that statement, finding the best language to support your legal arguments.

What's on Bloomberg Law

Learn whether your case is good law using BCiteSM, our integrated case citator. Review the case analysis and see how the case is discussed in court opinions. Take statutory case analysis to the next level with Bloomberg Law's Smart Code, using machine learning to identify extracts of court opinions that reference laws, rules, and regulations, ranking each extract's discussion of the code on a sliding scale from "weak" to "strong."

Bloomberg Law Dockets help your entire organization benefit from the flexibility to do more. With speed of delivery significantly faster than the competition, you'll find the dockets affecting your company or clients quicker than anyone else. Access unlimited searches and alerts of the dockets. Quickly find underlying documents – such as complaints, briefs, and orders – with our Docket Key search tool, now expanded to include filings for civil cases in all federal District Courts.

Bloomberg Law's Litigation Analytics enables you to search millions of legal data points by company, law firm, attorney, court, and judge to better help you predict possible outcomes and inform your litigation strategy. Provide your team with the tools to view litigation history and identify any risks to support due diligence.

Bloomberg Law's Litigation Practical Guidance includes overviews, checklists, and sample forms and filings that walk you through the legal and logistical issues related to initiating and defending litigation. The addition of Litigation Finance Practical Guidance will help you navigate this complex and growing industry. The guidance covers litigation finance industry basics, funding terms and structures, legal ethics, client types, and more.

Analyze an opponent's brief with Bloomberg Law's Brief Analyzer tool. Simply upload a brief to generate a detailed report with the brief and analysis in side-by-side format. Find suggested content for review and reasons for the suggestions. Link seamlessly to additional resources and tools on Bloomberg Law.
