Safeguarding Through Safer Recruitment

1-day essential course for staff & volunteers

When it comes to protecting vulnerable people, it all starts with who you hire.

If you're involved in recruiting or managing staff, you have a critical role in making sure your team is not just qualified — but safe, trustworthy, and aligned with your safeguarding values.

This 1-day course will arm you with the practical tools and insights you need to embed safeguarding into every stage of your recruitment process.

You'll learn how to:

- > Create strong, safeguarding-focused applicant information packs
- > Conduct interviews that probe beyond the surface to spot potential risks
- > Carry out robust pre-appointment checks, including understanding DBS checks and safer references
- > Make sound, defensible hiring decisions that protect your organisation and the people you serve

We'll also explore real-world case studies where weak recruitment practices led to serious safeguarding failures — and show you how to avoid the same mistakes.

Safeguarding isn't just a policy — it starts with the people you choose.

Learn how to recruit with confidence, and build a team that puts safety first.

Understanding the Police and the Role of the Appropriate Adult

1-day intensive course for staff & volunteers

When safeguarding is on the line, you can't afford to feel unsure when the Police get involved.

You need clarity. You need confidence. You need skill.

This high-impact course — led by Marie, an experienced safeguarding specialist who knows the system inside out — gives you the real-world skills to work with the Police, stand your ground, and protect the people who rely on you.

You'll learn:

- > When to call the Police — and when to push back
- > How to navigate the Police and Criminal Evidence Act (PACE) 1984 to safeguard rights and challenge poor practice
- > The crucial role of the Appropriate Adult — and how to step into it with authority
- > How to professionally challenge decisions that don't put children or adults at risk first
- > Where to turn for backup when things get tough

This isn't dry theory.

It's practical, frontline know-how designed to give you the edge when it counts most.

The stakes are too high for guesswork. Get equipped. Get confident. Get ready.

Introduction to Safeguarding Children (Level 1)

Half-Day essentials course for staff & volunteers who work with children & young people
No prior experience required

If you work with children — even occasionally — safeguarding is everyone's responsibility.

You don't have to be a specialist to make a difference — but you do need to know the basics.

This fast-paced, practical course gives you the essential awareness you need to spot risks, respond correctly, and help keep children safe.

Whether you're new to safeguarding or need a refresher, this course will build your confidence to act when it matters.

You'll learn:

- > What safeguarding actually means — and why it's not just “someone else's” job
- > The different types of abuse and key warning signs you must never ignore
- > How to respond if a child shares something with you — calmly, appropriately, and supportively
- > What to do if you're worried about a child's safety, even if you're unsure

This is Level 1 training — the foundation that every professional needs, whatever your role or setting. Because when it comes to safeguarding, doing nothing isn't an option.

Protecting children starts with you — Get the knowledge you need to step up with confidence.

Introduction to Safeguarding Adults (Level 1)

Half-day essential course for staff & volunteers who work with Adults
No prior experience required

Working with adults at risk? You need to know how to spot abuse and act fast.

This course gives you the basic but essential knowledge you need to start safeguarding — no prior experience required.

You'll learn:

- > What safeguarding means and why it's your responsibility
- > The signs of abuse and neglect to look out for>
- > How to report concerns and keep accurate records
- > What happens after a referral is made — who steps in and what they do
- > Why people often don't speak up and how to break the silence

We'll cover the key legislation you need to know, including the Care Act 2014, so you understand your role under the law.

By the end, you'll have the confidence to spot the signs, take action, and make sure adults at risk are kept safe.

It's time to get clear on safeguarding.

Safeguarding Children (Level 2)

Half-day essentials course for staff & volunteers – The Next Step in Keeping Children Safe

Ready to Level Up?

You've mastered the basics, now it's time to dig deeper and get hands-on. This course is for those who want to own their role in safeguarding and tackle the tougher calls with confidence.

If you're serious about protecting children, this course gives you the practical skills to move from awareness to action.

You'll learn to:

- > Assess and respond to safeguarding concerns with clarity
- > Navigate multi-agency working like a pro and understand your crucial role in the process
- > Handle disclosures with confidence and know exactly when to escalate
- > Get to grips with the legal frameworks that shape safeguarding decisions
- > Tackle complex safeguarding situations head-on

This isn't just about spotting risks — it's about responding decisively, and taking the right action when it counts.

By the end, you'll walk away with a deeper understanding, better decision-making skills, and the tools to protect children effectively in your setting.

Safeguarding is critical. Don't just be aware — be ready to act

Safeguarding Adults (Level 2)

Half-day essentials course for staff & volunteers - Ready to Take the Next Step

You've got the basics — now it's time to dig deeper.

If you're serious about safeguarding adults at risk, this course builds on your awareness and takes you further, providing the knowledge and tools to take real action in protecting adults at risk.

You'll learn:

- > The in-depth safeguarding process — from recognising signs of abuse and neglect to knowing exactly what happens after a referral is made.
- > The role of multi-agency teams — how to collaborate effectively with Local Authorities and other professionals for the best outcomes.
- > Barriers that stop people speaking out — and how to overcome them to ensure individuals get the help they need.
- > More complex safeguarding scenarios — and how to deal with them confidently.
- > Legal frameworks in practice — including deeper dives into the Care Act 2014, and how it impacts your work.

By the end of this session, you'll be equipped to take action when concerns arise, navigate the safeguarding process with confidence, and ensure the adults at risk in your care are given the protection they deserve.

This is your next step in safeguarding — taking awareness and turning it into real, proactive action

TheSafeguardingCop

Basic Safeguarding Awareness (Children & Adults)

2-Hour online course for anyone wanting to know the basics
No prior experience necessary

Safeguarding: It's Everyone's Responsibility.

Whether you work directly with children, adults at risk, or simply come into contact with them, safeguarding is non-negotiable.

This short, sharp course is designed to give you the critical knowledge to spot the signs of abuse, neglect, and exploitation — and the confidence to act when it matters.

You'll learn to:

- > Recognise the key signs of abuse and exploitation
- > Understand the different types of abuse and their impact
- > Respond correctly when someone shares concerns or disclosures
- > Know exactly what to do when you suspect abuse

This is your essential introduction to keeping others safe.

Don't wait for someone else to act — be the one who steps up.

Safeguarding in Sport & Activities – Club Welfare & Safeguarding Officers

1 day intensive course for staff & volunteers

When safeguarding fails in sport and activity clubs, the consequences are devastating — for individuals, for communities, and for the reputation and future of your club. As a Club Welfare or Safeguarding Officer, you hold one of the most critical roles in protecting children, young people, and adults at risk.

Without the right knowledge and action, poor practice and abuse can go unnoticed, and vulnerable individuals can be put at serious risk. In this vital session, you will:

- > Learn how to recognise and respond to safeguarding concerns, disclosures, and signs of abuse or neglect
- > Understand your specific roles and responsibilities in creating and maintaining a safer club culture
- > Build confidence in managing safeguarding incidents sensitively and appropriately
- > Explore key safeguarding legislation and guidance that underpins safer, more inclusive clubs
- > Know where to seek further support, advice, and escalation pathways

Safeguarding in sport and activity is about more than ticking a box — it's about building a culture where safety, inclusion, and protection are at the heart of everything you do. A strong safeguarding culture doesn't happen by accident, it is forged!

Join this essential training and ensure your club is a place where everyone can thrive safely.

Essential Safeguarding for School Governors

1 day intensive course for staff & volunteers

As a School Governor, you carry a legal and moral responsibility to ensure that safeguarding is not just a policy on paper, but a lived, whole-school culture. Your role is critical - you must be equipped to both support and challenge leadership, to ensure every child is kept safe from harm.

Safeguarding is complex and constantly evolving. That's why a comprehensive, one-day course is essential - a quick briefing or a few hours simply isn't enough. You need time to properly understand your duties, explore real-world scenarios, and build the confidence to ask the right questions of school leaders.

This full-day programme gives you the in-depth knowledge you need to:

- > Understand exactly what policies, practices, and training should be in place
- > Hold senior leaders to account for creating and maintaining a safeguarding-first culture
- > Recognise what inspection and regulatory bodies expect to see
- > Navigate the real challenges schools face in safeguarding today

Don't leave safeguarding to chance! Join us and empower yourself to make a real, lasting impact on the safety and wellbeing of children at your school.

Essential Safeguarding for Trustees

1 day intensive course for staff & volunteers

As a Trustee, you are legally and morally responsible for ensuring that safeguarding is not just a policy — it is embedded into every aspect of your organisation's culture and practice. You have a duty to protect the safety and wellbeing of children, young people, and adults at risk.

Simply being aware of safeguarding is not enough — you must actively lead, oversee, and challenge to ensure it is truly effective.

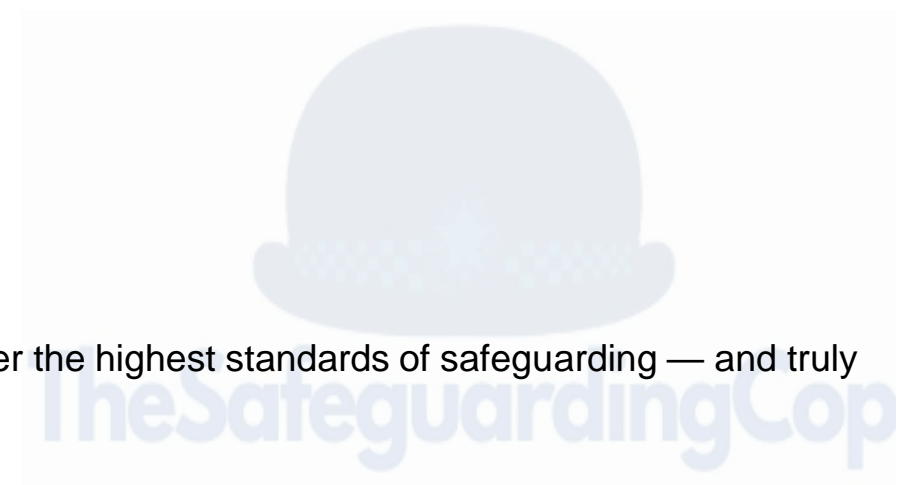

Safeguarding today is complex and highly regulated. That's why a full-day course is essential — safeguarding can't be properly understood or applied through a quick overview. Trustees need dedicated time to fully explore their legal responsibilities, real-world risks, and the leadership skills required to govern safeguarding effectively.

This comprehensive training will enable you to:

- > Understand your legal, regulatory, and ethical safeguarding duties
- > Create and champion a culture of safety across your organisation
- > Ensure effective, compliant policies and procedures are in place
- > Monitor safeguarding practices and support your staff to deliver them
- > Know when and how to collaborate with external agencies

Trustees set the tone from the top!

Join us to build the expertise, confidence, and leadership your organisation needs to deliver the highest standards of safeguarding — and truly keep people safe.

Child Sexual Exploitation & Child Criminal Exploitation (CSE & CCE)

Half day course for staff & volunteers

Child exploitation devastates lives — and it's happening in every community. Without the right knowledge and action, opportunities to protect children and young people are missed, often with distressing consequences.

Anyone working with children, young people, and families has a duty to recognise the signs, understand the risks, and respond appropriately.

Not being trained is not an option. The cost of missed warning signs is simply too high.

This essential training gives you the expertise to:

- > Understand the complexities of CSE, CCE, and Cuckooing
- > Identify who is most at risk and how children become entangled in exploitation
- > Spot the early warning signs — even when they're subtle or hidden
- > Understand why young people may not disclose, and how best to support them
- > Meet legal expectations under the latest Crime and Policing Bill
- > Make effective, confident referrals to statutory agencies

You'll also learn how recent changes to the law — including CCE and Cuckooing as standalone criminal offences — shape your responsibilities and actions.

Without proper training, vulnerable children stay unseen.

Join this course to ensure you have the knowledge, vigilance, and practical tools needed to truly make a difference — and to be part of the frontline defence against exploitation.

Domestic Abuse Awareness

Half day essentials course for anyone wanting to know the basics No prior experience necessary

Domestic abuse is a hidden epidemic — affecting individuals and families across every community. Failing to recognise the signs can leave vulnerable children and adults trapped in dangerous, life-threatening situations.

If you work with people, it is important that you understand domestic abuse.

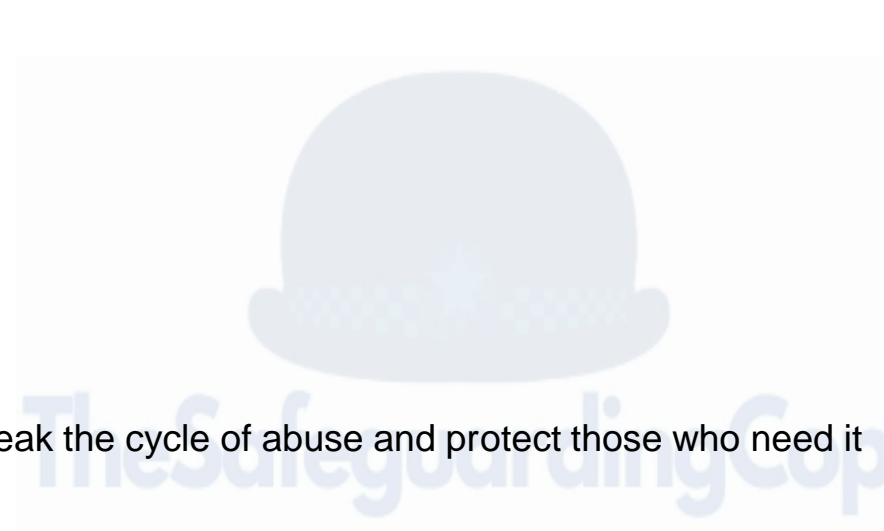

This introductory course is essential for anyone who may come into contact with children, young people, or adults affected by domestic abuse.

You will gain the crucial insights needed to:

- > Recognise the often-hidden signs of domestic abuse in all its forms
- > Understand the impact of domestic abuse on children, adults, and families
- > Respond sensitively, safely, and effectively when concerns arise
- > Signpost to appropriate support services
- > Understand your safeguarding responsibilities and legal duties

Without proper awareness, the warning signs are missed — and lives are put at risk.

No matter your role, this training equips you to take action when it matters most, helping to break the cycle of abuse and protect those who need it most.

Workplace Safeguarding Essentials: Domestic Abuse, Sexual Harassment, and Your Legal Duties

1 day intensive course essential for Employers & Human Resources (HR)

Since the introduction of the Domestic Abuse Act 2021, and with growing legal duties around sexual harassment and sexual abuse in the workplace (including under the Worker Protection (Amendment of Equality Act 2010) Act 2023) employers now have a clear and urgent responsibility:

Protect your staff. Support your staff. Act early to prevent harm...

Failing to recognise and respond to domestic abuse — or sexual harassment and abuse — can leave employees at serious risk, damage workplace culture, and expose your organisation to legal, reputational, and financial consequences.

This essential course will equip employers, managers, and safeguarding leads to:

- > Recognise the signs of domestic abuse, sexual harassment, and workplace sexual abuse
- > Respond sensitively and effectively when concerns or disclosures are made
- > Understand your legal duties under the Domestic Abuse Act 2021 and the Worker Protection Act 2023
- > Create safer policies, environments, and reporting pathways for staff
- > Confidently guide colleagues to appropriate specialist support

Domestic abuse and sexual harassment don't stay at home — they show up at work!

This training is a vital step towards building a truly safe, supportive workplace where staff can thrive without fear or harm.

Navigating Police Procedures

Half-day essentials course for staff & volunteers No prior experience necessary

If you work with children, young people, or adults at risk, understanding police processes is non-negotiable.

When you're called to interact with law enforcement, you need to know the key procedures and your responsibilities — because the stakes are high.

This course is your essential guide to confidently navigating police procedures and protecting the rights of those you support.

You'll master:

- > PACE 1984 & Policing Codes of Practice — Know your legal framework
- > The rights of children and young people in police custody
- > Stop & Search — What it is, when it's used, and how to manage it
- > The Use of Force — What's justified and how to respond

By the end, you'll be armed with the skills to confidently engage with police, ensure the people you work with are treated fairly, and keep their rights protected.

Don't get caught unprepared. Equip yourself now to act with authority when it matters most Navigating Searching, Screening & Confiscation within Education Settings.

Half day essentials course for staff & volunteers

The case of Child Q has made it crystal clear: understanding the process of searching, screening, and confiscating prohibited items is no longer optional. It's crucial.

This course will give you immediate clarity on when and how to conduct searches and screenings, ensuring your actions are fully aligned with legal requirements and statutory guidance.

You'll learn:

- > When searches and screenings are necessary, and when they could be harmful or unlawful
- > How to respect students' rights while ensuring safety
- > Best practices for confiscating prohibited items without overstepping boundaries
- > The impact of recent cases like Child Q on school policies

By the end of the course, you'll be equipped to make informed, responsible decisions with confidence — ensuring the safety of students while upholding their rights.

Don't risk the safety of your students or your school's reputation.

Get the knowledge you need, now!

Understanding PREVENT Duty and Counter Terrorism Strategy

1 day intensive course for staff & volunteers

With shocking events like the 2021 murder of MP David Amess, the 2024 Brighton Synagogue Bomb Plot by a Far-Right radicalised teenager, and the Manchester Arena bombing, the threat of radicalisation and extremism in the UK is very real.

Your role in preventing radicalisation is more critical than ever.

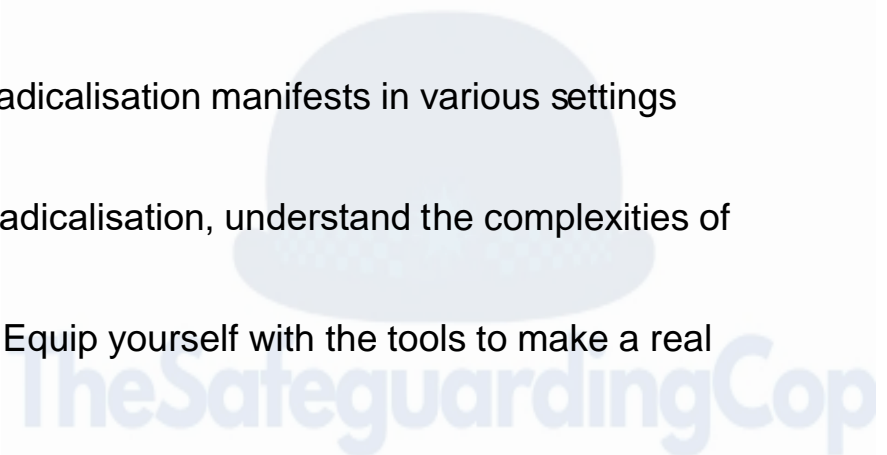

This course arms you with the essential knowledge to understand the UK's counter-terrorism strategy and the PREVENT Duty, introduced under the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, which has never been more vital.

Using Marie's expert knowledge and experience in Counter Terrorism Policing, you'll dive into:

- > How radicalisation works and why vulnerable individuals are drawn into extremist ideologies
- > The legal and statutory responsibilities under PREVENT and why early intervention is a game-changer
- > The latest updates in counter-terrorism legislation, including the Terrorism Act 2000 and recent guidance from the Home Office on tackling extremism
- > Real-world case studies, such as the David Amess attack and Southport, to highlight how radicalisation manifests in various settings

By the end of this course, you'll have the confidence and skills to recognise the early signs of radicalisation, understand the complexities of extremist ideologies, and take the necessary steps to protect those in your care.

In a world where terrorism can strike close to home, being unprepared is not an option. Equip yourself with the tools to make a real difference in keeping your community safe.

Mastering Effective Referrals to Children and Adult Services

Half day essentials course for Professionals

Get It Right When It Matters Most

Making a clear, accurate referral can be the difference between a vulnerable person getting the help they need—or falling through the cracks.

This focused course will sharpen your skills and build your confidence in writing strong, effective referrals to children's or adult services.

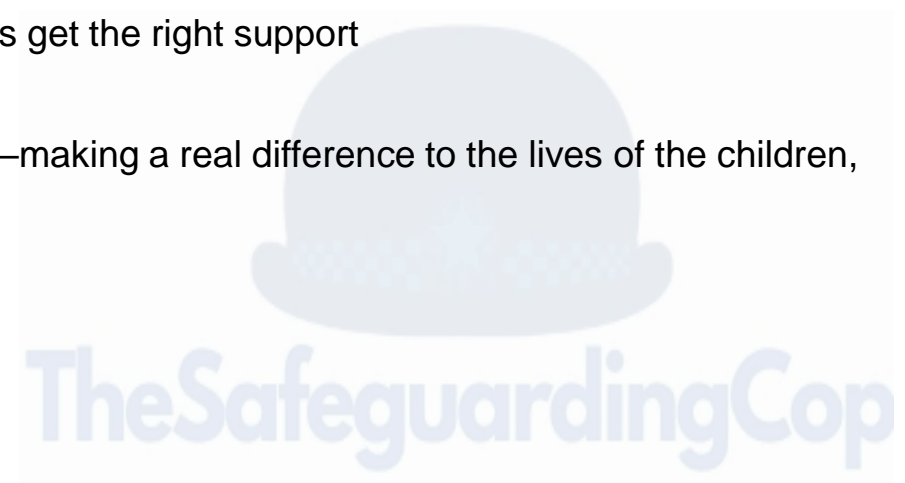

You'll gain practical, real-world insights into:

- > The common pitfalls and challenges professionals face when making referrals
- > Key legal frameworks and safeguarding responsibilities you must meet
- > How to frame your concerns clearly, professionally, and persuasively
- > When and how to professionally challenge decisions to make sure vulnerable individuals get the right support

By the end of the course, you'll feel empowered to act with clarity, confidence, and authority—making a real difference to the lives of the children, young people, and adults you support.

In safeguarding, getting it right first-time matters.

Don't leave it to chance—build the skills you need to speak up and act decisively.

Child Protection in Action: Understanding the Process and the Challenges.

Half day essentials course for Professionals

Safeguarding isn't something you do alone. Working Together to Safeguard Children sets out how schools, early years settings, health, police, social care, and others must work together to protect children.

But real-world practice can be complex, and knowing how the system fits together—and why it sometimes struggles—is essential for every safeguarding professional.

This course gives you a clear, practical understanding of:

- > How the child protection process works—from early help to referrals, strategy discussions, child protection conferences, and beyond
- > The roles and responsibilities of key statutory agencies and how each part of the system should support children and families
- > Why challenges happen in multi-agency work, including thresholds, communication breakdowns, and resource pressures—and how you can navigate these effectively
- > What good practice looks like, so you can hold your own organisation and others to account when children's safety is at stake

Perfect for DSLs and safeguarding professionals who need more than just the basics, this course helps you step confidently into your role, contribute meaningfully to multi-agency discussions, and challenge when things aren't working.

In safeguarding, understanding the system—and how to make it work—is everything!

TheSafeguardingCop

Understanding the Adult Protection Process: How to Navigate, Influence & Challenge

Half day course essential for all professionals

If you work with adults at risk, understanding the realities of the safeguarding system is essential—especially when it comes to adult protection conferences.

This course gives you more than just the basics.

You'll get a clear, practical understanding of:

- > How adult protection conferences really work—and where common gaps and challenges arise
- > The pressures and limitations facing statutory services, and why decisions aren't always straightforward
- > How to present and defend your concerns confidently, ensuring that adults at risk aren't left unsupported
- > Your legal responsibilities and rights when it comes to professionally challenging outcomes that don't feel right

By the end of this course, you'll be ready to step into adult protection meetings with confidence—knowing how to influence, advocate, and fight for better outcomes for the adults you support.

In a system under strain, your voice is vital. Be ready to use it.

‘Courageous Conversations’ with families

Half day essentials course for Professionals

Mastering Difficult Conversations: Communicate with Confidence and Resilience

Tough conversations come with the territory when you're working to safeguard and support others—but that doesn't make them any easier. Whether you're delivering hard news, challenging poor practice, or addressing sensitive concerns, these conversations can quickly escalate if not handled carefully.

This course gives you practical, real-world strategies to:

- > Manage conflict calmly and professionally, even under pressure
- > Communicate assertively and compassionately—without losing control of the conversation
- > Protect your own safety and emotional resilience, while staying focused on the outcomes you need
- > Approach difficult discussions with confidence, clarity, and professionalism

You'll learn how to navigate emotionally charged situations, spot early signs of escalation, and use proven techniques to keep conversations constructive and productive.

By the end, you'll leave empowered, resilient, and ready to tackle difficult conversations head-on—ensuring you act as a strong, confident advocate for the people you support, while looking after yourself too.

In safeguarding and leadership, confidence in conflict isn't optional—it's essential. Equip yourself with the skills to stay calm, stay professional, and drive real change.

Harmful Sexual Behaviour

Half day essential course for staff & volunteers

Responding to Sexual Behaviours: Confidence, Clarity, and Professionalism

Talking about sexual behaviours with children, young people, and families can feel uncomfortable—but it's a crucial part of safeguarding. Ignoring concerns or responding incorrectly can leave children at risk.

This one-day course gives you the essential knowledge, language, and practical strategies to:

- > Approach conversations about sexual development and behaviour calmly and confidently
- > Recognise the difference between healthy, concerning, and harmful sexual behaviours
- > Respond appropriately when concerns arise, following best practice and safeguarding frameworks
- > Understand the wider context, including risk factors, early intervention, and statutory responsibilities

You'll also explore the impact of harmful sexual behaviours, how to manage disclosures sensitively, and how to work effectively with other professionals to protect and support those affected.

By the end of the day, you'll leave feeling empowered, knowledgeable, and equipped to tackle these sensitive issues with the professionalism and confidence they demand.

In safeguarding, difficult conversations save lives. Be ready to have them—and do them well.

Child-on-Child Abuse

Half day essentials course for Professionals

Child-on-Child Abuse – Essential Training for Designated Safeguarding Leads and School Leaders.

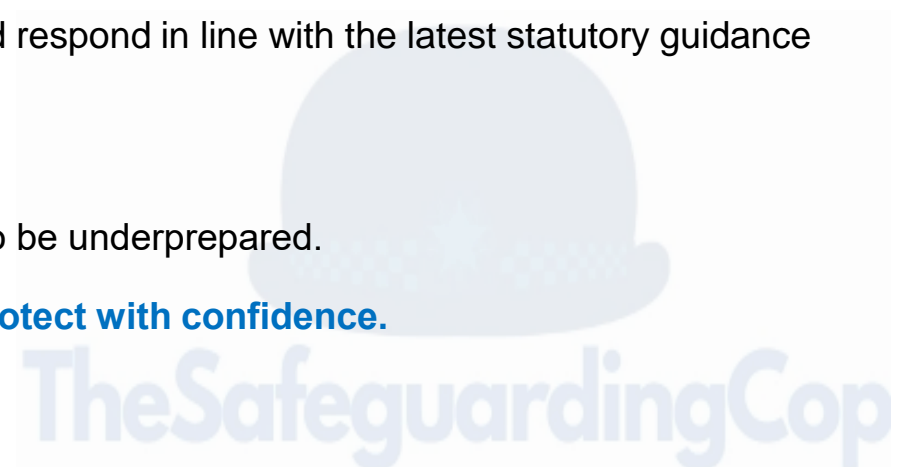

This is a must-have course for those who are serious about tackling one of the most complex and sensitive safeguarding challenges facing schools today.

This comprehensive, practical training will equip you with the knowledge, skills, and confidence to:

- > Identify early warning signs of child-on-child abuse, including subtle and hidden behaviours
- > Manage disclosures sensitively and appropriately, protecting both victims and those accused
- > Understand your legal responsibilities under Keeping Children Safe in Education and respond in line with the latest statutory guidance
- > Develop whole-school approaches to prevention, intervention, and culture change

In a landscape where child-on-child abuse is increasingly in the spotlight, you can't afford to be underprepared.

This training is not just timely—it's essential. Equip yourself to lead, respond, and protect with confidence.

Toxic Masculinity, Misogyny and Incel Culture: Understanding and Responding in Education

Half day essential course for professionals

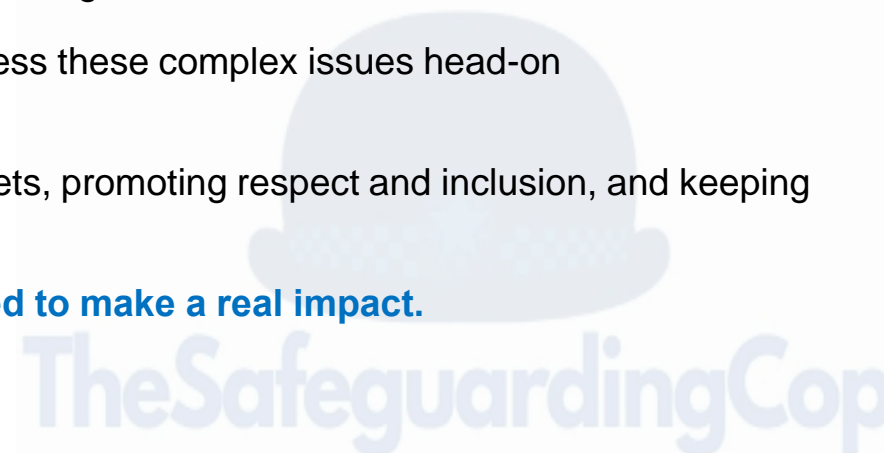

Across the country, education settings are seeing the impact of toxic masculinity, misogyny, and even elements of Incel culture infiltrating learning environments—fuelled by online spaces and wider societal influences.

This vital session will give you the knowledge and strategies to:

- > Understand the roots of toxic masculinity, online radicalisation, and the spread of harmful ideologies
- > Recognise the early signs of concerning attitudes and behaviours in your learning community
- > Respond confidently and constructively, challenging harmful narratives while safeguarding students
- > Explore practical, real-world approaches that schools and colleges are using to address these complex issues head-on

As these challenges grow, education has a critical role to play in disrupting harmful mindsets, promoting respect and inclusion, and keeping young people safe.

Ignoring these issues isn't an option. Equip yourself with the insight and tools needed to make a real impact.
