The Special Skis

Maria sat in her wheelchair. She wore lots of warm clothes. She was watching her friends ski. Maria couldn't ski. At least, that's what everybody told her. Maria's legs didn't work. Even so, she loved sports. She played tee-ball. She even played basketball and tennis in her wheelchair.

She watched her friends. Then a woman skied up to her. "Doesn't that look like fun?" she asked.

The girl said, "Yes." The woman smiled.

"My name is Carmen. I have a surprise for you. Look over there."

Carmen pointed toward the ski slope. Maria saw her father and mother. They were beside a chair that looked like a sled. Instead of wheels, it had skis.

“Okay, honey, up you go.” Maria’s father picked her up. He put her in the chair. She tumbled right over.

“You have to try to balance yourself,” said Carmen. She picked up Maria and her chair-ski. This time, Maria helped to balance herself. She felt a little bit afraid. But she was mostly excited. Her parents both gave her a kiss. Carmen strapped her into the chair. Then she put a helmet on Maria. “I’ve heard you are a smart girl. Let’s keep that head safe.”

Alex crawled under the blankets on his bunk bed. He was afraid of storms. Bursts of light flashed outside and thunder rolled. Tree branches scratched at his window, and he shook with fear.

Soon his father came home from work and found Alex in his room. “What’s wrong?” he asked as he sat on the edge of the bed.

“I’m afraid of the noise,” answered Alex.

“I know a storm can be scary. Cheer up. Think of the good things that happen when it rains,” said his father. “The wind scatters seeds, and the rain gives them water to grow. Plants and wild animals need water to help them stay alive.”

“That’s true,” said Alex. “I’ll think about that and try not to be scared.” He bravely took his dad’s hand. “Thanks, Dad,” he sighed.

His proud father said, “Come with me. Let’s go to the kitchen and have some apple pie.”

Each night Dora’s mother tucked her 6 in bed. Then, her mother turned off the 14 bedroom light as she left the room. For Dora, 23
 this was awful. Dora’s eyes grew wide in the 32 dark. She would lay in bed with the covers 41 pulled under her chin. She shook with fright. 49
 She just knew monsters were hiding under 56
 her bed. Maybe they were lurking in the 64 closet or creeping behind her drapes. 70

One night, Dora told her mother how 77
 scared she was. “I did not know the dark 86
 room bothered you,” said her mother. “From 93
 now on, you may turn off your own light.” 102

The next bedtime was different. Dora’s 108 mother closed the door but left on the light. 117
 So, Dora looked under her bed. She checked 125
 the closet. She peeked behind the drapes. 132
 Then she wrapped her teddy bear in a 140
 blanket. Dora clutched her toy animal. 146
 She paused, then reached the chain on the 154 glowing lamp and turned off the light. Soon 162
 Dora became used to the dark, and she was 171
 not afraid. 173
