The Girl Who Brought Down the Wind

Constance Veatch Toney

One spring long ago, the wind roared down from his western palace to play with the earth. It was his favorite game. But that day, for some reason, the wind was angry.

Instead of sailing gently through the trees, he ripped them from the ground and flung them about. Instead of whistling merrily through the wind chimes, he tore off roofs, flattened temples, and scattered the newly planted rice shoots.

The people were terrified and called out fearful curses against the wind. This angered the wind even more.

“I will show them!” he howled. “When I have finished here, I will stay in my palace. Let them see just how much they need me.” The wind pulled his dark cloak of clouds about him and stormed back to his palace. And there he stayed.

The people in Cherry Blossom’s province gave thanks when they saw the wind departing. For days afterward they cleaned, gathered, chopped, and rebuilt. Cherry Blossom helped her father repair their little house. She went with her mother to search for rice seedlings and fruit trees to replant. She watched over her baby brother and thought about the wind and all he had done.

As weeks passed, the people noticed something strange. While they rebuilt their houses, no gentle breeze came to cool their sweating brows. When they replanted their rice fields, no playful winds rippled the water.

Now answer the questions about this part of the story.

1. Why did the wind decide to stop blowing?
 - A. The wind was sorry for causing so much damage.
 - B. Cherry Blossom was upset.
 - C. The people told him to stop.
 - D. The wind was angry because people had yelled at him.

2. At first the people were glad when the wind stopped blowing. Why did they change their minds?
 - A. They missed the cooling breezes.
 - B. They were sorry they hurt the wind's feelings.
 - C. They needed a breeze to fly their kites.
 - D. They were ashamed of the way they acted.

“Why is it so hot, Father?” Cherry Blossom asked one day.

“The wind has gone elsewhere,” her father replied, wiping his forehead.

“Where is the wind?” she asked her mother.

“I fear we drove it away with our curses,” her mother said with a wave of her fan.

“How can we bring back the wind?” Cherry Blossom asked.

“Perhaps Wind Singer can tell us,” her father answered.

The people gathered around the old man called Wind Singer. He had more wrinkles than a dried plum, and his hair hung down like cobwebs. He was very wise.

“Sing down the wind for us,” the people begged.

“I have called the wind for many years,” he said. “I will try again.” Wind Singer’s voice sailed out into the air like a thin note from a bamboo flute. It drifted along the ground and then fell silent.

The people sighed and waited for the first breath of wind. Nothing happened.

“The wind is very angry with us,” the old man said. “I do not think he will return until we apologize.”

“But he hurt us and ruined our houses!” one man cried.

“Nevertheless,” Wind Singer cautioned, “the wind is like a spoiled child who must be always entertained. We must coax him back.”

So the people tried many things. Some went to the temple and beat upon gongs and cymbals. Others blew silver flutes and whistles. The wind listened but sat unmoved in his palace. Great bonfires burned in the night. The people hoped the wind might see the flames and come to play with them. He watched the stars instead.

Now answer the questions about this part of the story.

3. Wind Singer said that the wind is like a spoiled child because the wind

- A. liked to play with toys.
- B. thought he was better than everyone else.
- C. wanted people to entertain him.
- D. destroyed so many buildings.

4. Which word best describes the wind?

- A. selfish
- B. cooperative
- C. cheerful
- D. generous

Cherry Blossom saw all these things and thought about them. Remembering Wind Singer's words, she went to her father. "If the wind is like a child, perhaps we should make him a toy to play with," she said.

Her father smiled and shook his head. "What can a girl know of these things?" he asked. But he told his neighbor who told others. The people laughed at Cherry Blossom and her idea, but Wind Singer sat and thought.

The days grew hot. No wind blew in rain clouds, so the rice fields slowly dried, and the young seedlings withered. The trees drooped, and the birds could not fly. The wind chimes in every window were silent. A great, hot hush settled over the province.

At last, Wind Singer came to Cherry Blossom's house. "Make a toy that will bring down the wind for us," he said.

Cherry Blossom took paper and carefully cut out a strange shape. She painted a beautiful design over the paper, using all the colors she thought the wind would enjoy. Then she sewed the paper to thin wooden slats and added a tail of colored cloth. She tied a long string to it and carried the wonderful toy outside and fixed it to a long pole.

The people gathered about Cherry Blossom and her strange creation. She ignored their snickering and watched the tail.

Was it moving ever so slightly?

Now answer the questions about this part of the story.

5. How did the people treat Cherry Blossom before she made the toy?

- A. They offered to help make the toy.
- B. They laughed at her.
- C. They encouraged her to build the toy.
- D. They ignored her.

6. Which word best describes Cherry Blossom?

- A. lucky
- B. creative
- C. impatient
- D. mysterious

From his western palace the wind was surveying Cherry Blossom's province when he saw the brightly painted thing on the pole. Silently he sailed out to look at it. Gently he puffed at its tail. Why, it was only cloth! He could easily blow it any way he wished. First to the left, then to the right. It switched like a cat's tail. The wind chuckled.

Next the wind pressed against the beautiful toy. It crackled and shifted easily on the pole. Why, it's only paper! He thought. How often had he tossed paper up into the sky and chased it for miles? But this paper was different. It was beautiful and delightfully shaped. It would be much more fun to lift this pretty scrap up into the sky and play with it.

Softly at first, then with stronger gusts, the wind lifted his new toy up off the pole and carried it above the treetops. At just the right moment, Cherry Blossom leaned forward and caught the string she had tied to the paper. The people held their breath.

Suddenly, all about them, the trees sprang to new life, their leaves clapping in the breeze. Wind chimes sang from every window, and the birds rose up on eager wings to dance with the wind.

The people cheered and laughed. "Cherry Blossom!" they chanted. "The girl who brought down the wind!"

Cherry Blossom only smiled and held tightly to the string, while high above her the wind tugged and played with his pretty new toy.

Ever after, the children in the province made bright paper toys like Cherry Blossom's so that the wind wouldn't forget to come down from his western palace. And even today, in all parts of the world, children still bring down the wind every spring in the same special way.

Now answer the questions about this part of the story.

- A. They were jealous of her success.
- B. They were sad they hadn't made the toy.
- C. They were happy she succeeded.
- D. They were afraid the wind would get angry again.

9. Cherry Blossom's toy was a paper

- A. airplane.
- B. ball.
- C. kite.
- D. frisbee.

10. What lesson can you learn from Cherry Blossom?

- A. Always finish what you start.
- B. Adults can solve problems more quickly than children.

Say these specific directions to the student:

When I say “Begin,” start reading aloud at the top of this page. Read across the page (DEMONSTRATE BY POINTING). Try to read each word. If you come to a word you don’t know, I will say the word for you. Read as quickly and accurately as you can, but do not read SO fast that you make mistakes. Do your best reading.

Lin and Vern lay stretched out on the grass. 9
 They were friends. They liked to watch clouds float- 18
 ing across the blue sky. They enjoyed the endless, 26 changing shapes. The boys imagined they saw bears, 34 ocean liners, angels, and people with funny faces. 42
 They thought the thunderhead cloud they saw on 50
 the horizon was a giant, snow-covered mountain. 58
 The friends talked about what they had seen. 66
 They wanted to learn more about storms and clouds. 75
 So they went to the city library. There they learned 85 some interesting new facts. Different cloud shapes 92 have names. Many storms are seasonal. For example, 100 tornadoes usually occur in springtime. These funnel 107 clouds look like huge coils. This violent storm slashes 116 across the land. It causes serious damage to buildings 125 in its path. 128
 The curious boys often had lively talks. They 136 wanted to know why a hurricane has a calm center 146 eye. Why are tornadoes so powerful? Both kinds of 155 storms spin in a circular pattern. The boys wondered 164
 if the two storms had other things in common. 173
 Each of them enjoyed predicting the weather. 180
 Every morning they watched the clouds. Would it 188 rain today? It may be no surprise to learn that they 199 became weather forecasters after college. 204

People tell stories about Big Foot. Some of them believe this beast is real. They say it lives in the deep, mountain forests of the western United States.
It is described as being over six feet tall with coarse, human-like hair from head to toe. Big Foot is said to give off a very foul odor.

Some people claim to have heard a loud, bellowing cry when they were camping. Did Big Foot make the noise? Visitors to the area have told friends they saw the hairy beast. Some say they saw it running through the forest. Yet, they didn’t tell forest rangers.
They were afraid the animal would be captured.
Others insist they have photographs of huge footprints that prove its existence.

Most people think Big Foot is an imaginary creature. They say the reports are just plain silliness.
They suggest the people who saw the beast were simply mistaken. They failed to report the sightings because it was just their imagination.

What is the truth? Until a live Big Foot or its skeleton is found, the debate will not end. Stories about Big Foot are like tales about the jack-a-lope.
Cowboys invented it. It is a cross between a jackrabbit and an antelope. They made it up while sitting around campfires. Could this be how the legend of Big Foot began?
