

When attaching water hose to the sprinkler system make sure to put the water hose through the velcro straps before connecting to misting system. That will reduce the stress from the weight of the water hose and water pressure on to the misting connector.

Open the misting attachment base by opening Velcro strap

Attach the misting head to the base

Close the attachment base by securing Velcro strap