

Mahala D. Bacon, Th.D.

Chicago's International Spiritual Teacher, A visionary Leader

President, of the Independent Spiritualist Association of the United States of America. CEO, of the United Spiritual Council of Nations and Senior Pastor, Evangelical Spiritual Church

A distinguished leader in the emerging field of Spiritual Energetics, the study of spiritual energy and its transformative phase. Dr. Bacon weaves science, spirit, and service into a holistic tapestry of healing and wisdom. Her guiding belief, "Emotions are simply the voice of the Spirit," speaks to her ability to help others navigate the inner world with compassion and clarity.

Revered as a spiritual teacher among us, she continues to inspire and empower through global workshops, interfaith collaboration, and compassionate leadership.

A graduate of Williams College, Mahala is a renowned spiritual leader and educator in sacred traditions. She is celebrated for her intuitive knowledge and international recognition in Spiritual Energetics, the study of spiritual energy and its transformative phases. Guided by the belief that "all people must be honored for the innate wisdom that resides within them," her life's work is devoted to helping others embark on the inward journey to awaken that wisdom and live with deeper meaning.

Known globally for her thought-provoking teachings, seminars, speaking engagements, and workshops, Mahala brings advanced educational techniques and a forward-thinking mindset to the world of spiritual development. With a practical, down-to-earth approach, she has cultivated a devoted international following.

Her expertise bridges Sacred Sciences, Eastern mystical philosophies, and contemporary scientific theories of spiritual phenomena. Through interactive classes offered both online and in-person, she shares accessible tools for spiritual transformation.

Her global teaching has led her across the USA, Canada, and Mexico. Mahala is a frequent guest on television, satellite radio, and international podcasts, and is a respected speaker for global spiritual organizations. She also teaches scientific classes for paranormal investigational research, offering spiritual perceptive insights to both individuals and groups.

Her life-long passion is guiding others to awaken the power within. As a pastor, educator, and speaker, Dr. Mahala D. Bacon brings comfort, clarity, and hope to those seeking deeper meaning. Drawing from the wisdom of Eastern Mysticism and blending it with traditional Spiritual Teachings, she offers a practical path for living life fully anchoring ancient insights into our modern world.

Her mission is rooted in the belief that "knowing ourselves is where our power lies." Through spiritual education, Mahala invites each person to expand their awareness, uniting the innate wisdom of the heart with the intelligence of the mind. In this sacred union, we come to know our wholeness and embrace the truth that we are already complete.

As we align with universal energy, we discover that the cosmos speaks directly to the soul: "Emotions are simply the voice of the Spirit."
