AREA VOLUNTEERS SUPPORT HURLEY'S ANIMAL SHELTER

Area residents have come together to support Hurley's Animal Shelter in an effort to grow it into a showcase for southwestern New Mexico.

With the shelter being close to full capacity over the last several months, volunteers like Tim Gray and Scott Siville stepped up to feed and walk the animals on the weekends. Meanwhile, Archi Padilla and Cindy Sanchez helped coordinate a meeting of volunteers to strengthen networking efforts and develop a vision for a volunteer network that will support shelters and rescue efforts throughout the region.

Individuals interested in joining these volunteer efforts should contact acting-ACO Doug Miranda at the Hurley Police Department by calling 537-3220 or emailing codeenforcer@townofhurleynm.us
