Residents List and Map

- The latest copies of the Residents/Homeowners list and Residents/Homeowners map have been posted to the Creekside Oaks website under Resident Directory.
- New residents (and some old timers) sometimes ask why do the condo numbers in Creekside Oaks seem so random? Legend has it that the units were numbered when they were completed and ready for occupancy. On the map you can see that makes some sense as different sections have some numeric similarities.
- Another oddity – where is #25 Bay Tree Lane? We do not have a condo with this address. Check out the map and prove us wrong. But hidden amongst some of the most beautiful oak trees in Los Altos is our paint shed and if you look closely, it is #25.
- Our complex had a sales office on site during construction. There must have been sales brochures. Some research has not uncovered them – yet. If you have one, I am sure that the homeowners would love to see what Creekside Oaks looked like and how it was marketed in the 70's.

Bocce Ball

- Bocce, which is a bit like bowling, dates back thousands of years to ancient Egypt, where it was such a treasured pastime, artists depicted it in tomb paintings. From there, bocce spread through time and the continents to the Greek and Roman empires. Luminaries like the Roman Emperor Augustus and Hippocrates, the Greek physician who inspired the Hippocratic oath, are believed to have been devotees of the sport.

- You too, can play like an emperor (or a Greek physician). Creekside Oaks has one of the few private bocce ball courts in Santa Clara County. Most times to play bocce ball you need to belong to a country club or be visiting a pricey vineyard. Here at Creekside Oaks, you just need to visit the website (Creekside Oaks Bocce Ball Court), sign up for a time and saunter down to the court. Don't know how to play? It is deceptively simple, as long as you have a good eye and know the ropes. Check out videos on line or check to see Los Altos Community is offering any classes this summer. If you are interested in lessons here at CSO, send an email to secretary@creekside-oaks.com. If we receive enough interest, we will try to set up a class

Monthly "Meet and Greets" at the Pool

- Between now and September on the first and third Friday, from 5:00 - 7:00, residents are invited to gather at the upper pool to meet other neighbors!
