A NEW START OF AN OLD TRADITION

The Lafourche Roping Club (LRC), a non-profit organization, anchors itself in the joys and traditions of our WESTERN CULTURE and HERITAGE by developing and teaching cowboy skills and ranching skills of the present and the past. Skills like riding, roping, livestock training and care all serve as the basis and means to further develop valuable life skills.

The LRC has produced quality rodeos, roping events, barrel racings, horse shows, and other western equine events since 1959. Our rodeos are sanctioned by the Cajun Rodeo Association (CRA), another non-profit organization, which shares in a similar mission. The CRA draws a contestant base from across Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, and Florida – these are families coming to Raceland and contributing, in some way, to our local commerce.

Our goal from the production of a rodeo is simple - to raise money by providing quality family entertainment through the western traditions of rodeo. Our purpose is to allow our Club the opportunities to host and sponsor various activities that encourage, involve, and train the youth of our community so as to continue these western traditions for generations to come. We provide the venue and promote

- Teaching and refining present day cowboy skills to promote participation in amateur rodeo and other amateur equine events.
- Preparing and encouraging our youth to participate in High School and College sanctioned rodeo events and continued education.
- Encouraging the adults of our organization to contribute to the preservation of our western culture and heritage.

Each of our specific club-sanctioned activities is led by LRC members to provide the opportunity for guidance/instruction, team building, and physical activity to build the participant's core strength and balance, horsemanship skills, sense of value, confidence, and sportsmanship. In addition to these learned skills being brought back to the farms and ranches and utilized to work livestock, these young competitors are encouraged to compete in sanctioned events such as 4-H shows, High School, College, and/or amateur rodeos.

We will not accomplish this task without generous sponsors like you.

There are many ways in which to sponsor the Lafourche Roping Club. The attached provides information on our most popular rodeo sponsorship packages. Should none of these packages fit you and/or your company - or - should you wish to provide a donation that exceeds the package amounts outlined, we can customize a package to better suite your advertising request.

The Lafourche Roping Club looks forward to many more years of partnering with you so we may all contribute to our community and heritage. Our members and event participants thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Al Legendre, President
