The Growing Tech and Social Media Assault on Families and Children

The new evils of Internet social media are destroying our children’s minds, souls and bodies. How can we save our children and the future of our Church and our society?

In just the last few years our kids have been hit with an onslaught of mental health issues. Many are questioning their own worth and existence. We are seeing massive increases in children who are lonely, overly anxious, depressed – and sometimes suicidal.

The old religious education methods don’t work anymore to give our children the stability we once took for granted. And young people are leaving the Church and the Faith in massive numbers.

Join us for a presentation and discussion, open to area Catholics. The first in a series of sessions for concerned parents, grandparents and others.

Find out what resources are available and what is in the plans. Find out what you can do to protect your family. Learn what is happening in your area.
