AXIA COGNITIVE™ DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

MILESTONE 1 COMPLETE

— PRODUCT ARCHITECTURE VALIDATION —

AXIA Cognitive™ has successfully completed its first product development milestone.

This phase focused on validating the technical foundations of the AXIA Cognitive™ formulation within a chilled, preservative-free beverage format. The objective was to confirm that the core product architecture could perform as intended under real-world manufacturing and storage conditions.

Areas of assessment included ingredient compatibility, formulation stability, microbiological considerations, pH performance, and manufacturing suitability.

The successful completion of this milestone confirms the feasibility of the AXIA Cognitive™ product architecture and establishes a strong foundation for continued development.

CURRENT STATUS

FORMULATION OPTIMISATION & PILOT PRODUCTION

The project now progresses into the next phase of development, focused on refining the formulation, preparing pilot-scale production, and advancing toward commercial readiness.
