

STRESS AND SHOOT

Place a Laser Strike target on the wall about five yards away. Place your weapon on the floor or a table nearby. Do squats or run in place until you are breathing hard. Do pushups until you are near your limit. Stand, retrieve your weapon, acquire the target and shoot. This will help you see how stress and fatigue can affect your accuracy.