

While I was waiting for clients on Wednesday I took these shots because they really say a lot about what our State Parks can offer families.

©

©

Isn't this a great photo of getting these young ones started early appreciating our parks... Notice what is on the backs of the little ones. They went to fish hatchery to see and feed the fish. A great opportunity for family together time and for them to begin to learn about fishing.