

So many things I'd like to know Right outside our window

By Jacey Norton

On that flower that blooms so bright,
Is that a bee that has just taken flight?

A worm squirms into his dirt habitat.
I watch and wonder how does he do that?

Rocks of white, black and grey.
If they could talk, what would they say?

I listen as the river gurgles and gushes.
Where is it going as it roars and rushes?

A bird builds a nest of twigs, grass and string.
What is hiding under her wing?

There are muddy footprints on the ground.
What kind of animal have I found?
