

NORTHEAST ASSOCIATION FOR CLINICAL MICROBIOLOGY AND INFECTIOUS DISEASE

Call for Posters, NACMID September 2026

We invite submissions of scientific posters for the Northeast Association for Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases (NACMID), planned for September 21-22, 2026 at the Sheraton Nashua in Nashua, NH.

Eligibility

- Eligible submissions include research and QI projects relevant to clinical microbiology, infectious diseases, diagnostic stewardship, antimicrobial resistance, laboratory operations, and related fields.
- Students, residents, physicians, technologists, pharmacists, and industry partners are welcome to submit.
- Work may have been submitted to or presented at another conference within the past year, provided this is permitted by the original conference

Submission and presentation requirements

- Submit text abstract as an attached Word document electronically to posters@nacmid.org
- Deadline: August 1 2026.
  - In the body of the email include your full name, laboratory/company or institution, and your role
    - Eg. graduate or undergraduate student, MLS, MLT, microbiology or biological sciences trainee, technician, director, vendor, etc.
- You will be notified if your poster is accepted by August 14 2026.
- You must register to attend the conference by September 11th 2026.
- At least one author should be available to present the poster during the assigned poster session.
- Poster printing is the responsibility of the submitter.

Poster size and format

- The maximum poster size is 4 feet high by 6 feet wide, smaller is acceptable

Presentation

- If your poster is accepted for presentation, you will receive detailed instructions regarding your assigned poster session, including the time to mount your poster, the duration of the presentation period, and when you are expected to be present at your poster to discuss your work.

If you have additional questions about posters, please email posters@nacmid.org