

Online Workshop

Institutional and Instructional Strategies for Retaining Online Students

August 11, 2015 10:00-11:30 am

This popular, live online workshop is available to both registered conference attendees and those not attending the conference. You can participate from any location in the world. For those planning to attend the conference through the virtual option, consider registering for this workshop to expand your virtual conference experience.

Workshop Description

Students may fail to complete online courses because of inadequate institutional support services, course quality issues, inability to manage time and workload, inadequate faculty contact, or lack of technology support. This interactive online workshop will address these challenges and provide both institutional and instructional strategies to help retain students through to course or program completion.

Your Instructors

Dr. Simone Conceição, Professor, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and

Dr. Rosemary Lehman, Partner, eInterface

Join these leading experts in student retention for this highly engaging virtual learning experience.

How to Register

Go to the conference registration webpage and sign-up for the 90-minute virtual workshop:

<http://dtlconference.wisc.edu/registration/>

Cost: $75—non-conference registrants / $45—virtual or onsite conference registrants

Contact Info: Louise Fowler, Workshop Chair at lfowler@dcs.wisc.edu

High speed Internet connection required