It's Thanksgiving Motherfuckers!

Well, it's that time of year when you eat a bunch of turkey and stuff. Or maybe ham. Nah, fuck ham! Turkey forever, bitches!

Thanksgiving around the Strano household used to consist of eating pickles wrapped in spoiled turkey deli meat. However, now that we're big time writers we don't even get that. Now we just kick back and talk about how good spoiled turkey and pickles used to be. Then we pretend we're stuffed and talk about how cool it would be to have a TV so we could watch football.

I guess what we're trying to say is that, we're broke motherfuckers! And, it's all your fault. Why not just buy our books and then write a review and then recommend these instant classics to your friends, family, and clergy? I mean it is Thanksgiving motherfuckers and we'd be thankful for you giving us some goddamn money. After all, we spend every waking minute of the day thinking about how we can better serve you, the readers, who apparently don't even exist, since we haven't sold shit in a while. Does anyone even read these newsletters? Probably not, but we're going to keep on writing them. You know why? Because we're fuckin' loyal like that, unlike you bitches and bastards that just read this free shit and then never buy our books. Now that you've been shamed, go on Amazon and buy our shit or else we'll come to your house and beat you with a drumstick.

We'd be thankful

For you giving us

Some goddamn money

Thanksgiving Safety by Dr. Squatsenfartz

Thanksgiving is not my favorite time of year. As a Coroner, I can normally expect the site of horrific axe-a-dents, but Thanksgiving produces a lot of gruesome drumstick deaths. I've seen too many people stabbed with drumsticks, choked on drumsticks, and even a person dressed like a chipmunk that had a drumstick perforate his rectum. The oddest thing about that chipmunk was when he awoke after I pulled the drumstick out of his ass. I never had that happen before.

Don't overeat. It's easy to do, but you will feel too full. I overate once and almost died. Luckily I'm a doctor and knew how to break up impacted stools. Probably didn't help that I was taking excessive amounts of narcotics at the time, but it was a dark time for me, and after I found out that I was dying from old age. I think some people call it a mid-life crisis, but it's not that, it's the looking your mortality in the eye. But, I don't want to get into psychology right now, go see your shrink for that.

Every year turkeys are assaulted in explicit ways. Do not warm up your turkey with the intent to penetrate it with your sexual organ. And definitely do not go down on an undercooked turkey. You may end up with Sal Manila. Italian bastard!

Meet Ginger Murkin

Um, uh, whew...Ginger Murkin! She was interviewed by me. I really enjoyed interviewing her. I interviewed her real good. She is so beautiful and sexy! And, I interviewed her as hard as I could.

Here's that interview:

Strano News: Hi?

Ginger: Ugh.

Strano News: SO sexy?

Ginger: I know, how do you think I feel? I have to look at myself everyday, and I have to deal with my body always being around and always being super-sexy. It's hard to not break into self-pleasure when I think about myself, or see myself in the mirror, or when I adjust my bra, or see myself peeing.

Strano News: I got a boner?

Ginger: Yes! That much is clear.

Strano News: Fire crotch?

Ginger: Have you ever done this before? Do you ever interview people, like for real? I interview people all the time, and I can share some much needed advice: ask fully developed questions, you stupid fucking mouth-breather. But, yes the carpet does match the drapes, but if you looked at it you would be blinded. No one has ever survived the sight of my fire crotch.

Strano News: (Clears throat and fights back tears) So, what was your most interesting interview?

Ginger: I would have to say the episode of the Morning Money Shot, when two Furrries, Wolf and Chipmunk, came on my show. The stupid Chipmunk kept standing up and messing with his costume's ass-flap and then the cunt that was wearing the wolf costume took a swing at me and my producer tackled one of them. It was a real shit-show. Luckily, I made it to safety and then choked my stylist with a hair dryer cord to relieve my frustration.

Strano News: Is my boner back?

Ginger: Yes! And, if it comes close to me, I will choke you as if you're an unimportant Grip. And then revel at the sight of your spirit swimming in the air, probably trying to use your aerial advantage to catch a glimpse of my cleavage.

At this point we had to end the interview so I could run to the bathroom and jerk off. I didn't make it to the bathroom and had to drive home with sticky leg.

Have You Seen This Alien?

People around NASAL are beginning to question their sanity as the corporate space agency is having a ridiculous amount of trouble getting people to post four simple words: Squeeze The Big Ends! It really isn't that hard and it could save an alien from being sexually assaulted by ugly redneck women. Yet, NASAL continues to fail. And, why? Probably because it is a space agency for average learners. We should have made our astrophysicists a lot smarter than average, I guess. I mean Samantha Perkins is very smart but everyone else seems to be a complete idiot. And so, the half-assed attempts to save Maxie will continue. At least until NASAL depletes their budget on white lab coats, paper towels, boxes of toilet paper and other nonsensical things.

Final Newsletter Nutshot

I thought I was in for a helluva good weekend when I saw that the new season of Narcos was released on Netflix. However, it wasn't long before I realized that the writers of Narcos copied one of our author's personalities. That's right, they have a pilot on that show that is completely like ole Skip Johnson. He's egotistical, an unsuccessful lady's man, narcissistic, arrogant, self-centered, and has diarrhea of the mouth.

Now, I know what you may be thinking: Aren't all pilots that way. And yes, you are correct. However, there are just too many similarities.

For instance, in How to Make Love Like a Pilot, Skip talks about how he flew for Joaquin, and I don't mean Joaquin Phoenix, I'm talking about the drug lord, and guess what that pilot in Narcos had in his storage compartment. Let's just say it wasn't a bunch of Corona and Chiclets. Anyway, here's that part from Skip's book:

But like mom says, "Everything happens for a reason." And she was right too, because I ended up landing a high paying job as a contract pilot for some guy in Mexico named Joaquín.

Joaquín was a good boss, he promised to make me rich. He was always giving me hefty bonuses, as long as I promised to not tell people that I was flying sugar from Mexico to L.A. on a regular basis. However, it didn't last long because Joaquín and his business partners were constantly in and out of jail for misunderstandings. The Mexican legal system is so confusing.

Safety Message

Most accidents occurring on Thanksgiving are a result of the improper use of turkey drumsticks. Have fun this holiday season and remember to keep those drumsticks out of your rectum.
