Summer Newsletter
KonAromaFarms.com

From our

Mountaintop to your Countertop...

We may be experiencing an unusual drought here in New England, but fortunately the rains have been falling steadily each afternoon in Kona, helping to swell the red and ripening cherry.

In March, the drought was affecting the Kona coffee blossoms and, in the process, alarming the farmers and growers as we watched for signs of withering blooms. Luckily, like clockwork, the rains started in April and haven't abated showering the trees each afternoon. The 150 newly planted trees on the farm will be ready in three years for picking.

Although it is early we are expecting our first harvest in July; the first harvest usually begins in late August. With the prospect of a good season, we should be picking between now and February.

Thank you again for your continued support as we continue to cultivate our precious beans and grow KonAroma to new levels!

Clothes Made out of Coffee Grounds and Plastic Bottles

Singtex, a Taiwan company, is making a fortune from coffee grounds.

They have developed a process to produce fabric out of recycled plastic bottles and coffee grounds.

This fabric is purchased by major sports clothing companies such as REI, Patagonia, and Timberland for environmental reasons and because the fabric reduces odors. The company also extracts coffee oil from the grounds and sells it to cosmetic and soap companies.

Mrs. Drowsy's Handy Hint:

What goes best with a cup of coffee? Another cup.

Coffee is the most important meal of the day.

Water is the most essential element of life, because without water you can't make coffee.

The problem with coffee is trying to make it when you haven't had any yet.

And lastly - Stop and smell the beans!

Some Southern Cooking Y'all

Sausage with Red-Eye Gravy and Biscuits

Instructions:

- Warm 2 tbs. olive oil in a large skillet over high heat.
- Add 1 lb. bulk pork breakfast sausage and cook, breaking up the chunks, until no longer pink.
- Transfer to a plate using a slotted spoon.
- Reduce heat to medium and add 1 tbs. of olive oil.
- Sprinkle 2 tbs. all-purpose flour over oil and cook, stirring constantly 3-5 minutes.
- Add 1 cup of KonAroma and bring to a simmer over medium-high heat. Season with salt and pepper.
- Reduce heat to low and stir in 2 tbs. packed light brown sugar and 1 tbs cream.
- Add sausage to skillet and serve with biscuits.

Ahhh yes..... that's KonAroma!
