Aloha
KonAroma Customers and Friends!

It's time to celebrate!

Yes, it's the Christmas, Chanukah, and Kwanzaa season! A time to pause, reflect, and delight in the spirit of the season.

Here at the KonAroma Farm we are grateful that the damage from the Kilauea Volcano that destroyed and devastated so many homes and communities is finally over.

On the heels of the Kilauea eruption came Hurricane Lane tearing through much of the same part of the island. As the Big Island has a series of dormant volcanic mountains, they helped block and protect the Kona coffee belt, and as a result, the KonAroma Farm was totally unaffected.

We are in the midst of the 2018/2019 harvest with a few picks remaining. It is both business and good quality as usual.

All in all, KonAroma Farm is thriving and we look forward to another fruitful year ahead!

Mahalo,

Cindy and Dennis

Notable, Newsworthy Coffee Stats, Etc.

Americans Don't Drink ALL That Much Java...

It may seem like there's a coffee shop on every corner of every major city in the U.S. and usually another on the other side of the street. But, Americans place 25th when it comes to the amount of coffee we consume. The Scandinavian countries are the leaders. Interesting, right?

But .....All The HIPPEST CATS Drink It...

The record holder for the title "oldest cat ever"-a cat named Crème Puff-lived to be 38 years and three days old. She drank coffee every morning of her life, plus bacon, eggs, and broccoli, too. Before you dismiss that as just an unrelated coincidence, consider this: the cat that Creme Puff beat out for the record-34-year-old Grandpa Rex Allen-had the same owner, and was fed the exact same diet.

RIP Creme Puff
