1. About Boarding Training Australia

Welcome to Boarding Training Australia (BTA).

BTA is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) that specialises in delivering quality training specifically for boarding professionals across Australia. The boarding industry includes student residential care programs such as boarding schools, residential colleges and hostels for students. This training material has been designed for supervisors and boarding managers in the boarding industry.

In 2010, the boarding support group 'Boarding Australia' (www.boardingaustralia.edu.au) saw the need to develop nationally recognised training material for boarding supervisors, who are also known as house parents, house masters, residential youth workers, and residential supervisors. On behalf of Boarding Australia, Steve and Jenny Florisson developed the Certificate IV in Community Services Work (CHC40708) support material to provide boarding supervisors with a recognised training program. The Certificate IV was contextualised, which means that the support material for the certificate IV was focused on the context of the student boarding industry. The purpose of the training was to provide a comprehensive, recognised training course that would also recognise the skills and knowledge of the many, very experienced supervisors in the boarding industry. Since that time thousands of boarding supervisors across Australia have completed this qualification. In 2014 the Diploma of Youth Work (CHC51408) was also contextualised for the boarding industry and these two qualifications form a career path that could lead on to degree courses.

Boarding Training Australia are responsible for developing, delivering and assessing two qualifications to the standard required by Australian Government's Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015. Boarding Training Australia as a registered training organisation also issue the certificates and statements of attainment for qualifications on the scope of registration.

2. About Steve and Jenny Florisson

Steve started his boarding career in 1975 as a housemaster for Christchurch Grammar School in Claremont, WA, caring for forty students in 'Parry House'.

Jenny moved into a boarding house on a remote mission soon after she was born. Her parents cared for forty primary aged boys at Warburton Mission, and later looked after teenage students in a boarding school at Wongutha. After becoming teachers and marrying, Steve and Jenny worked in boarding schools for twenty-four years before leaving schools to develop the training program.

From your initial enquiry, through to enrolment, and on to completion of your study with BTA, Steve and Jenny, and team will be there to support you and help you complete the training.

3. CODE OF PRACTICE

The BTA Code of Practice reflects the five keys areas of best practice:

- 1. Ensuring learner's rights as a consumer are protected and that each receives the services detailed in their agreement with BTA.
- 2. That, as a Registered Training Organisation, BTA adheres to the principles of access and equity and meets its legal obligations whilst maximising learner outcomes.
- 3. As an organisation, BTA staff and management engage the industry in the operations of the RTO so that learners and the industry sector can be confident that the qualifications issued by BTA are recognised and valued by the industry.
- 4. Assuring the quality of the training and assessment provided across all of the program areas within the RTO.
- 5. Meeting individual learner needs by assessing their current skills and knowledge prior to the commencement of training.

The detail of the 'code of practice' can be found at the end of this handbook, Appendix One.

4. Enrolment

Learner Selection and Recruitment

This training material has been developed specifically for the student boarding industry, for residential supervisors and managers who are working in a student boarding residence. It is possible to do the training if the learner has access to a student boarding environment where they can carry out significant work placement, enough work placement time to develop and practice the skills that are a part of the training. Typically, a Certificate qualification is more than 600 hours and a Diploma is more than 1200 hours. This means that you need to be in a boarding residence or a similar work context where you can learn skills on the job for three months to satisfy the requirements of the CHC42021 Certificate IV in Community Services, and six months to satisfy the requirements of the Diploma of Youth Work CHC50425.

Duration of course

Boarding training Australia has two qualifications on scope (CHC42021 Certificate IV in Community Services, and CHC50425 Diploma of Youth Work) and these qualifications can be carried out by distance, face to face or online. The duration of the 'face to face' workshop component of the training is usually five or six days. There are training and assessments requirements that must be carried out prior to the training. There are practical exercises, training and assessment that must be carried out after the 'face to face' training. The CHC42021 Certificate IV in Community Services, and CHC50425 Diploma of Youth Work requires that the Head of Boarding or Manager sign the learner off on a range of skills. These skills are developed in the workplace over time and the manager may require further development of some skills before the learner can be signed off as competent.

The duration of the course is affected by prior learning and experience, and how much time the learner commits to the training each day.

5. Enrolment Procedure

1. Fill in an expression of interest form or phone BTA.
2. BTA will send you information about the course including the student handbook.
3. You will be advised of the cost of training.
4. Fill in an application form and pay deposit.

A copy of the Student Handbook is provided to all learners prior to commencement of study. The Student Handbook also advises about graduate certification procedures, assessment procedures, complaint and appeal procedures, facilities and equipment and trainee support services.

7. Things you need to know about the Diploma in Youth Work as delivered by Boarding Training Australia (BTA).

1. There are 21 units in the Diploma and 11 of those have been partially or completely covered already in the Certificate IV,
2. This qualification is at a level 5 (Certificate IV is at level 4) and it requires a higher level of training work. You will need to read material and analyse material and come to your own conclusions.
3. This level 5 qualification in some units requires that you not only know something or able to do something in your work context, but that you can also explain that process to others. Instead of just being involved in work you are now managing work situations.
4. This level 5 qualification requires that you have a language, literacy and numeracy ability level that will enable you to both complete the training, and carry out your work role at this new level.
5. A Diploma typically takes about 1000 to 2000 hours to complete. Residential youth workers (boarding supervisors) have already learned much of the knowledge and skills required for the diploma because they have been working in the industry. Therefore, to complete this qualification a trainee should have worked in the industry for at least six months.
6. There are three parts to the Diploma delivered by BTA;
 - a. You will need to register for this unit at least ten weeks prior to the 'face to face' training. During this time you will need to read the unit support material, submit assessments weekly and collect information ready for the 'face to face' training.
 - b. The 'face to face' training will be for five to six days,
 - c. You will need to complete some projects in your residence or workplace after the training.
7. The Diploma requires that you carry out some of the assessments with real clients or students (not fictitious people or scenarios). You will need to do this in your residence after the training. These are small projects, and they are the sort of activities that are a part of the normal everyday role of the boarding supervisor. You will need to get permission from your manager and the best way to do this is to show the manager the projects so he can see that it is just normal practice.

8. There is a skills checklist that applies to a range of skills in this qualification, and you will need to get your manager to sign you off on those skills once he is satisfied that you are competent in those skills.
9. By the time you complete this diploma, you should have a very clear understanding about the role of a youth worker in different contexts, an effective working knowledge about the stages of development and the different constructs of youth, the range of different contexts for young people, and knowledge and skills that will enable you to meet the diverse needs of young people in a range of different contexts. You will also have good processes for evaluating your practice, recording and reporting, and taking care of yourself. This unit is partially contextualised to the boarding industry, but at the completion of this unit you should be able to work in other parts of the youth industry with some work placement experience.

10 . DELIVERY MODES

The Certificate IV in Community Services (CHC42021) and Diploma of Youth Work (CHC51421) can be carried out in modes;

- Face to face
- Distance
- Online
- Webinars - Webinars are held every Tuesday and Thursday during term for Certificate IV, and every Wednesday for Diploma. These sessions allow boarding staff to connect with colleagues across Australia and internationally.
- Face to Face - recommended because supervisors and managers benefit from the discussion, the interaction, and the group activities. Trainers will travel to your boarding residence anywhere in Australia if there are at least four learners in the group to be trained. The employer will be required to contribute to travel and accommodation costs. Learners must enrol for the training at least 12 weeks prior to the 'face to face' component of the training. Support material and assessments will be emailed to you before 'face to face' training commences. BTA uses on line conference app to work with learners during this period.
- Online - BTA has an online site which can be accessed from the BTA website with a username and password that comes in the introduction pack. The site has notes, on-demand webinars, eLearning modules, and assessments which can be completed online.

11. LANGUAGE, LITERACY, NUMERACY & DIGITAL (LLND) SUPPORT

Learners may be assessed in order to ascertain if their LLND skills are sufficient to successfully undertake the training program. This is usually via interview or completion of an exercise contained in the proposed training program.

Individuals who require help with their literacy and numeracy can access information about their nearest LLN provider by calling The Reading Writing Hotline on 1300 655 506 or refer to their website at <https://readingwritinghotline.edu.au/>

This is a free national reading, writing numeracy service for adults. BTA staff will support learners to upgrade literacy and numeracy skills before commencing the training.

Learners can opt to provide assessment answers verbally if they have difficulty writing.

12. CLIENT SUPPORT

Client Services, Welfare, and Guidance.

BTA uses quality management practices to ensure effective client services. Operational standards ensure timely issuance of training assessments, results and qualifications, appropriate to competence achieved and issued in accordance with National guidelines. All client results and documentation is recorded, kept confidential and securely archived. Records are kept in safe custody, with access restricted to authorised staff. Clients can access their files by request, with 14 days' notice in writing. All relevant organisational documents carry a version date. Records of updated version dates are kept on file.

BTA has client welfare and guidance services relevant to its training products. Where necessary, clients requiring literacy and/or numeracy support are referred to relevant qualified experts. Any fees incurred are the responsibility of the client.

BTA has access to personnel with experience in developing diagnostic assessment services for diverse client needs.

BTA informs clients of all fees and charges prior to enrolment. Clients are also advised of course content, outcomes and assessment procedures before training commences.

BTA's quality focus includes access and equity ensuring that no client is discriminated against. Our focus also allows for recognition of prior learning (RPL), fair and equitable refund policy, complaint and appeal policy and procedure. For any matter outside of BTA expertise or control, we will make every attempt to refer the client to the relevant agency or expert.

BTA offers opportunities for people to participate in the vocational education and training system, and in associated decisions, which affect their lives.

BTA prohibits discrimination towards any group or individuals in any form including discrimination on the basis of:

- age,
- disability,
- race,
- sex,
- intersex status,
- gender identity, and
- sexual orientation

Staff Responsibilities for Access and Equity

BTA applies access and equity principles to all programs and provides timely information and suitable support to assist clients to identify and achieve their desired outcomes.

Access and Equity issues are considered during training, product development and in training and assessment

14. FLEXIBLE LEARNING AND ASSESSMENT

Competency Based Training and Assessment

Competency-based training (CBT) is an approach to vocational education and training that places emphasis on what a person can do in the workplace rather than what they know as a result of completing a program of training.

Competency-based training programs are made up of units broken into segments which are called elements. These are based on standards set by industry, and assessments are designed to ensure each learner has achieved all the elements (skills and knowledge) as well as skills evidence and knowledge evidence, required by each unit in order to gain their course qualification. Each course is made up of the required number of core units and elective subjects which have been chosen to offer you the best all around knowledge and skills base. Assessment methods are detailed in the Training and Assessment Strategy (TAS) for each course. BTA applies the principles of validity, reliability, fairness, and flexibility in all assessments.

The objective of assessment is for the client to show that they have achieved competency in the unit(s). Clients may be assessed by one or more of the following methods.

- Observation / demonstration of skills (may be to a third person such as a boarding manager),
- Case study
- Multiple choice
- Written short answers
- Project
- Portfolio material, or any other method outlined in the Training and Assessment Strategy (TAS).

Learners will be advised of the assessment methodology before training commences.

Training and Assessment Standards

BTA staff are appropriately qualified and experienced to deliver the training and assessment offered. Assessments will meet national assessment principles including recognition of prior learning and credit transfer. Sufficient training materials and physical resources will be provided to you in order for you to achieve the learning outcomes of the training program. Appeals procedures are in place for clients who are not satisfied with assessment or training.

Flexible Learning

BTA provides learners with learning flexibility by taking their personal situations into consideration so as:

- a. to maximise learning outcomes, and
- b. to optimise access to learning activities.

Any flexible arrangements agreed to must still adhere to the course assessment standards and requirements.

Structured training may be conducted in a classroom, in the workplace, online or a mix of all methods; it may be delivered in various modes including face-to-face interaction, online interaction, or distance.

Learners should initially discuss possible flexible arrangements with their trainer. If the desired change is deemed feasible, authorisation should then be obtained from the training manager.

Assessment Presentation

Written assessment documents such as projects, case study scenarios, written answers to questions, portfolios and research reports can be submitted by email, or by mail. Online learners can submit material online.

Resitting Assessments

In the event of a 'not yet competent' outcome the learner will have an opportunity to re-do the assessments for that unit. The trainers will support learners who need to re-do assessments. Every effort will be made by the staff of BTA to ensure a successful outcome for learners.

15. RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

Recognition of Other Qualifications/Credit Transfer

BTA recognises Australian Qualification Framework qualifications and Statements of Attainment that are issued by any other Registered Training Organisations.

Learners may be entitled to a credit transfer if they have completed units of competency from a relevant National Training Package. The training must be less than five years old, unless the practice that the learner was involved in after the training was the same as the training. If for example a learner was involved in childcare training five or six years ago, and then worked in the childcare industry for five years, then the training would still be relevant because it has been supported by the subsequent practice.

Recognised Prior Learning (RPL)

Learners who have completed appropriate training or who, through prior learning and experience, have gained the required skills/competencies stipulated for the modules of the course may be granted credit. Learners who believe this applies to them, may make an application for RPL.

BTA advises all applicants of RPL opportunities and procedures upon enrolment. The 'performance criteria' of the course module sets the RPL benchmark and evidence for credit of prior learning may include:

- Evidence of current competencies
- Performance, demonstration or skills tests
- Workplace or other pertinent observation
- Oral presentation
- Portfolio, logbook, task book, projects or assignments
- Written presentation
- Interview
- Simulations

BTA's preferred way to deal with substantiated RPL claims is to allow the learner to do the assessments without doing the training.

A candidate may appeal an unsuccessful claim (see complaints and appeals).

16. COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS

Complaints

BTA seeks to prevent complaints by ensuring that training is relevant, interesting, consistent with Commonwealth Standards (2015) and consistent with the learner's expectations. BTA also ensures timely response to enquiries, assessments and completions. BTA expects courteous, respectful, fair, and helpful behaviour from BTA office staff and trainers. Where learners are involved in 'face to face' training there is an expectation of respectful cooperative behaviour towards the trainer and other learners.

In the event of a complaint, the learner is required to follow the following procedures to ensure the issue is resolved.

The learner must first try to resolve the problem by talking to their BTA Trainer.

Should the problem still be unresolved, the following procedure must be followed:

1. Request a Student Complaint Form from your BTA trainer or contact BTA to obtain a copy of the form.
2. Fill out all required details on the form and attached any relevant documentation.
3. Submit the form to BTA via the contact email or postal address provided on the form.

Upon receipt BTA will address the issue.

The learner will receive a written statement of the outcome from the Trainer and/or training manager within 14 days of the complaint being received.

All records of any complaints are kept on file. If the complaint is still unresolved, BTA clients may lodge a complaint with an independent third party agreeable to both parties. If still unresolved after this process they may lodge a complaint with the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA): 1300 701 801 or go to this page for directions on how to make a complaint

<https://www.asqa.gov.au/about-us/how-asqa-uses-feedback/complaints-about-training-providers>

To deal with complaints and appeals, the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness will apply by:

- operating in a fair and unbiased way
- informing those involved of the allegations
- providing those involved an opportunity to present their side of the story.

Where more than sixty calendar days may be required to finalize the complaint, we will inform the complainant in writing the reasons and keep them up to date with progress.

Appeals

BTA seeks to prevent appeals by ensuring learners are satisfied with the training and assessment process. All staff are expected to be fair, courteous and helpful in all dealing with clients.

Should an appeal about any assessment be made, this will be treated seriously, investigated thoroughly and dealt with according to the merit of the complaint.

The circumstances and results of any appeal are analysed by the training manager and appropriate improvements made to prevent recurrence of the problem. Appeals must be resolved within 21 days of receiving the appeal. All records of any appeals are kept on file.

Appeal Procedure

1. Request a Student Appeal Form from your trainer, or contact BTA to obtain the form.
2. Fill out all required details on the form and attached any relevant documentation.
3. Submit the form to BTA via contact email or postal address provided on the form.
4. Upon receipt BTA will address and review the appeal.
5. The learner will receive a written statement of the outcome from the Trainer and/or Managing Director within 21 days of the appeal being received.
6. If the appeal is still unresolved, the client may lodge the appeal with an independent third party agreeable to both parties. Learners may also seek legal advice through the usual processes if they feel unsatisfied.

17. RULES, REGULATIONS AND DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

Rules and Regulations

The following apply to all persons, staff and learners:

- An individual's property is to be respected and not interfered with without consent of the owner. Look after your own possessions. BTA accepts no responsibility for personal property lost or stolen at training sessions.
- Nobody has the right to interfere with another person's ability to learn, through disruption of classes or harassment of any kind.
- No aggressive physical contact or verbal abuse is to occur between any persons.
- Smoking is not permitted inside training facilities.
- Alcohol and other drug use in training facilities or while undertaking BTA activities is not permitted.
- Intoxicated persons and persons affected by other drugs are not permitted inside training facilities and will be asked to leave.
- Clothing and behaviour should be appropriate to the course being undertaken and not cause offence to anyone.
- Mobile phones are to be turned off during classes and in study areas.

Discipline Policy

Clients at all times must maintain appropriate behaviour and follow BTA rules.

In the case of minor breaches, a warning will be given. In the case of major or repeated breaches, the client may be requested to leave the course.

The training manager will oversee all disciplinary matters.

18. COMPLETION AND PROCEDURE FOR ISSUING CERTIFICATES

A learner will be issued with a certificate on completion. If a learner completes only one or more modules but not a complete qualification, a Statement of Attainment will be issued.

A Statement of Attendance may be issued where appropriate.

Before certification is issued the training manager verifies competency has been properly assessed, all tasks complete, and all fees paid. Once all is deemed in order, the training manager authorises issue of the relevant certificate.

When a client has completed their course and a certificate has been issued, the client's file is archived. A reference is made of the client name, client number, and certificate number in the archive filing register. A copy of the certificate or Statement of Attainment is retained by BTA

19. Detecting Fake BTA Certificates and Statements of Attainment

BTA have put into place a range of strategies to make sure that certificates cannot be fraudulently printed or copied.

1. The certificate has a BTA logo watermark under the writing covering most of the document from side to side.
2. The certificate number has five digits so certificate number 86 will have the number 00086.
3. The paper used to print the certificates has a microprint security line, a minute font which can only be viewed through a magnifying glass. If the document is copied, the text will blur rendering the message unreadable.
4. The paper has a security warning band, which lists the security features incorporated into the document
5. The paper has a copy preventative background (pantograph). When unauthorized persons try to copy or scan the original, a "COPY" hidden message appears.
6. The paper has solvent reactive ink, which provides visible protection against acids, bases, bleaches and solvents. The ink smudges when touched by one of these substances.
7. The paper has a Heat Sensitive Red Thermochromic Icon. Thermochromic inks are sensitive to temperature changes and will disappear when heat from your breath or finger is applied and reappear once cooled.
8. The certificate or Statement of attainment is signed by CEO, or Administration Manager.

If you believe that a certificate or statement of attainment with BTA (Boarding Training Australia) logo or heading is fraudulent, please contact BTA or ASQA (<http://www.asqa.gov.au/complaint>) immediately.

20. REFUSAL TO PROVIDE SERVICES
