Time Played: 15+ years

Experience: Attended Duquesne University for music. Toured the country playing thousands of gigs. Over 10 years of teaching experience.

Background: Rock, funk, jazz, prog, blues, bluegrass, classical, recording and music tech.

Additional Info: Seven time Rock Erie award winner for Guitar and Best Jam Band. Three time winner of Best of Erie for Best Local Musician. Appeared in Guitar Player magazine. Has been teaching at World of Music for over 10 years.

Chris Bumbera

Teaches: Guitar

Time Played: 20 years

Experience: 10+ years at World of Music

Background: Chris has been a teacher at the World of Music since 2008. During this time, he has taught over 100 students of all ages. Chris enjoys many styles of music including metal, rock, industrial, electronic, classical, some blues and jazz, and various forms of country. In addition to his own interests, he enjoys being exposed to new music from his students. Chris has a great interest in the recording and production side of music.

Additional Info: Proficient in many genres, Flexible and laid-back teaching style with a focus on personal developmental goals of the student and highly encourages his students to read music

Mike Dattilo

Teaches: Guitar (acoustic & electric)

Time Played: 39+ years

Experience: Mike has been helping students of all ages and backgrounds reach their musical goals since 1989. Recognizing that all people learn music differently, Mike tailors each lesson to the person before him in order to maintain motivation and increase success.

Background: A steadily working musician, Mike actually “practices what he preaches.” From an insider’s perspective, he knows both music and the business of music. Since the 1980’s he has played in numerous local bands, many of which have had great regional success.

In 2004, Mike was the touring guitarist in Kevin DuBrow’s solo band. Kevin was the lead singer of multi-platinum rockers Quiet Riot. He’s also shared the stage (or worked with) Jeff Martin (Racer X), Henrik Ostergaard (Dirty Looks), and Ryan Roxie (Alice Cooper)...to name a few.

Additional Info: Whether a student wants to learn a few favorite songs, delve into beginner or advanced music theory, or is already a player and looking for some new ideas....Mike can help.

Jake Flaugh

Teaches: Guitar, Bass, Ukulele

Time Played: 12 years

Experience: Currently pursuing a Bachelor Degree in Music Production at the Berklee College of Music.

Background: I have been a guitarist for over 12 years and have more than 2 years' experience in bass guitar and drums. Was the recipient of the Rock Erie Music Awards "Guitarist of the Year" in 2014. Currently I am recording and producing music and have produced 3 albums and 4 singles, and recorded over 5 albums so far. With the band, Kevlar, I have travelled to 35 states and have played over 400 shows as the lead guitar player. We opened for Nothing More, Avatar, Skidrow, Escape The Fate, Eyes Set To Kill, Adrenaline Mob, Like A Storm, All That Remains, The Bunny The Bear, 3 Doors Down, Steel Panther, New Years Day, Butcher Babies, Powerman 5000, Puddle Of Mudd, Nonpoint, Otherwise, and many more! I have written songs with Brian Bonds (Guitarist for Florida Georgia Line), Nick Sampson (Producer of Asking Alexandria, We Came As Romans, Polyphia, Miss May I).

Additional Info: Was accepted and attended 2012 & 2013 Guitar Sessions. I have made the Dean's List at Berklee every semester and was accepted into the National Honor Society in 2017

Preston Lindey

Time Played: 40+ years

Experience: 30+ years

Background: Preston has played in numerous bands in the tri-state area. In addition to playing in bands, he has performed with the Erie Philharmonic Orchestra. Preston is very proficient in every instrument he teaches and has had many of his students move on to form bands of their own. He has also written numerous guitar instruction method books covering topics such as advanced jazz chord theory, rock guitar, and beginning through advanced music theory.

Additional Info: Aims on teaching materials that maintain maximum interest for the student, proficient in music theory, experienced in many genres of music.

Stephen Maynard

Teaches: Steve is proficient in teaching creativity, guitar & bass (in all styles), banjo, mandolin, songwriting, composition, home recording and music theory; from beginner through college level playing. Steve also specializes in and has experience working with students who have special needs, autism and down syndrome.

Time Played: 29 years

Experience: Steve is in his 15th year as a professional music teacher. He has taught at: World of Music (Erie, PA), The Nolan School of Music (Erie, PA), The Starving Musician (Berkeley, CA), The Paul Green School of Rock (San Francisco, CA), group and private classes for The Gertrude Barber Center and Life Works Erie (Erie, PA), Penn State Behrend (Erie, PA) and Sacred Heart Elementary School (Erie, PA). He also possesses his act 33 & 34 clearances.

Background: Steve spent most of his youth enrolled in music lessons at several local music shops. When he became more serious about his playing, in his late teens he sought out and studied for a number of years with Basil Ronzetti at Ronzetti's Music School (Erie, PA). In his early 20's he went to Slippery Rock State University (Slippery Rock, PA), where he studied Elementary Ed/Special Ed with a minor in music. It was at Slippery Rock that Steve got his start teaching music. Giving guitar lessons on the side for extra money in what ever open room he could find in the music hall. He began breaking down his own playing and started thinking about how many perspectives or situations could be applied to and/or taken from any given chord, note, scale, idea or motif; the deeper side of music in general...

On a whim one summer after university, Steve fell into teaching music at World of Music in Erie, Pa and hasn't slowed down since. Always revising his own personal teaching style and adding new spins on old techniques to keep his students constantly engaged and looking for more. Everyone gets a custom tailored education in music were their goals, influences and favorite songs lay down the back bone for examples and act as a springboard for their own playing and ideas.

Additional Info: Steve's not just a teacher he's a player as well. Having played in several noteworthy local, regional and national acts (mostly hardcore and thrash metal) with releases on a handful of minor or independent record labels. He's toured the country, played shows in Canada and gigged extensively up and down the east coast. He's played blues jams and open mics, even playing guitar for a group of school age children at a bus stop in Oaxaca Mexico!?!

Laidback, patient, easy to work with, quick with a joke and loves to laugh. He loves thrash metal, hardcore, punk rock, indie rock, jazz, blues and outlaw country music. Steve really loves what he teaches, knows and does. Check him out, bet you'll love it too!

Dan Monacella

Teaches: Guitar, Bass, and Piano

Time Played: 25+ years

Experience: BA in Music Performance, BS in Psychology, teaching at World of Music since 1998

Background: Piano and guitar performance videos may be found on YouTube under user names VagueReality and DanMonacella (averaging around 5,000 views a month).

Additional Info: Specializing in teaching students with learning disabilities and other mental challenges. Also has worked with professional national acts such as War of Ages and White Wives specializing in theory, lead playing and song writing.

Zack Orr

Teaches: Guitar, bass guitar, ukulele, songwriting, voice

Time Played: 25+ years

Teaching Experience: 15+ years

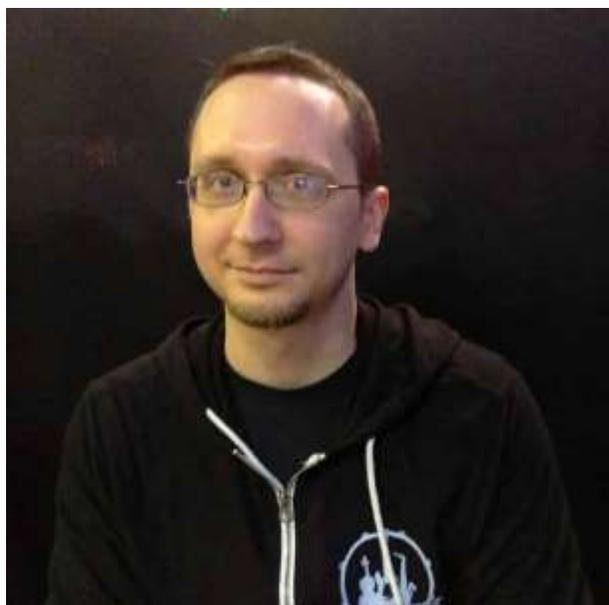

Background:

Born in Atlanta, GA, the list of places Zack Orr has called home has spanned the globe from London to Austin, Los Angeles, Portland, and Boston, where he attended Berklee College of Music. He now lives in Erie, Pennsylvania.

Zack Orr is an independent singer/songwriter on the rise. His debut album, The Unstoppable Lift, was called "stunning and inventive" by legendary rock journalist Ben Fong-Torres of Rolling Stone fame, adding "...he just may be unstoppable." His latest release, Francisco The Man, was nominated for Best Concept Album by the 10th Annual Independent Music Awards and was featured on the cutting edge music blog Consequence of Sound.

Experience: 10 years teaching both violin and piano

Background: Received a bachelor's degree in music (violin and piano) from Mercyhurst University.

Additional Info: Rob plays at church as well as several local bands around Erie including Taylor Maid, Hiway Starr and The Year. He teaches all styles of music and has students ranging from ages 5 to 60.

Aaron Taylor

Teaches: Trumpet, Trombone, Tuba, Baritone, Euphonium, Clarinet, Alto Saxophone, Tenor Saxophone, Bari Saxophone, Bass Clarinet, Alto Clarinet, Flute

Time Played: 20+ Years

Experience: Aaron has been helping students of all ages and backgrounds reach their musical goals. Music is therapeutic and helps students in and out of the classroom. Aaron has attended master classes at Edinboro University, and Carnegie Mellon University. He has played in a wide variety of settings. Fluent in different genre such as jazz, funk, rock and roll, classical and folk music. Each lesson is specialized to meet the needs and goals of the individual student.

Aaron has worked along side a wide variety musician. Some of those musicians are Grammy nominated saxophonist Eric DeFate, Paul Thompson and Carl Jackson.

“I started teaching lessons back in the 10th grade as a student mentor. The idea of helping people has always been a goal of mine. Music can provide some of the best experiences a person can have. Going to a concert, listening to music in a car with friends, music is in us all.”

Background: Aaron is originally from Pittsburgh, PA. His first instrument was the trombone back in the third grade! He has been teaching lessons for the past 12 years. He has taught at the Center’s for Musically Talented, located in Pittsburgh, Pa. Aaron has also spent time at Carnegie Mellon University studying Dalzcoze Eurhythmics. He has taught private lessons through the Edinboro University School of Music. He also works with different marching bands in the Northwestern region of Pennsylvania.

Each lesson is geared toward the student, the lesson track is geared toward the player they would like to become.

Aaron has received a Bachelors of Arts in Music Education from Edinboro University in 2016 and a Master’s of Education in Middle and Secondary Curriculum Instruction in May of 2019. He currently is a music teacher/band teacher for the Erie School District and works at East Middle School 6 – 8.

Riley Droney

Charlie Meyer

Teaches: Piano, Trumpet, and beginner/rhythm Guitar

Time Played: 30 years

Teaching Experience: I have been teaching for 12 years, have played in bands for 20 years, and have 8 years of classical training on piano.

Background: After my classical training, I focused on jazz, blues and rock 'n roll music which would eventually turn into writing/arranging/composing for myself or within the construct of a band. Comfortable teaching students with special needs.

Additional Info: You can have all the scale/music theory training in the world, but it means nothing without rhythm. My rhythm studies/experiences are what propelled my playing to the next level. So even if you don't "play drums"...you should start! Listening to all styles of music, no matter your preferences, will start you on the path of true musicianship!
