Forward

We appreciate that there are, and have been, many examples of spiritual guides and impactful leaders throughout humankind's many cycles of incarnation. Because of them, so many are ready for the coming dimensional and geophysical shift. What we offer here is for those who resonate with this path and as a result, make a choice to awaken to their own true self and mission and take the necessary inner steps to ascend as they see fit. No matter your chosen path, it stands to reason, the very fact that you are reading this suggests you are ready to apply your thoughts and actions to your ascension and assist others to do the same. Godspeed!

Why This Information is Being Offered

Dimensional Choice

Picture the world as you know it, dividing itself into two dimensions. There's the world we know now and then we discover a new, dimensional world that only appears to be the same, and they both now exist in parallel. The old world features a fear driven, slave culture with war, poverty, pollution and illness, all derived from a duality construct, as in "us versus them." The new, parallel, dimensional world is enabled through unconditional love, sovereignty, transparency and an unquestioned sense of oneness, all realized by simply observing the Universal Law of Non-Intervention. So we ask you, which dimension would you prefer? You may be surprised as to who and how many may choose which of these dimensions.

The dimensional split we briefly describe is not a metaphor just for a few fringe thinkers to contemplate. The split is actually well underway and has been for some time now and is referenced in many ancient texts. There are some among you that are experiencing this transition silently while managing their way through an inner transformation. I count myself among them and know of many others as well. The choice we reference is one that all who are incarnate upon the earth now enjoy as their birthright, as universal law decrees through your eternal soul's sovereignty. Allow us to briefly explain.

Geophysical Change

The geophysical change will include cleansing nearly the entire earth of negatively inspired controls. This type of event has happened many times before as humankind has yet to exercise one of its core strengths, sovereignty. Preparing for and surviving this significant event will require a deep inner challenge that overcomes the entrained and allowed, slave culture. Survival is optional.

Let's dive a little deeper into what the Inner Path of Ascension really looks like and who are the Beings on Purpose. The Inner Path of Ascension is the inner work each of humankind will choose to undergo in order to accompany Gaia (Mother Earth) on her energetic, geophysical journey. Indeed, all who have incarnated at this time in humankind's and Gaia's current coexistence have agreed, pre-birth, to be here now. We have all agreed to assist, one way or another, and follow Gaia as she ascends from 3D to 5D. What comes with 3D is the fear based, slave culture and what comes with the ascension to 5D is a harmonic world guided by unconditional love. I choose love over fear and we invite those who wish to assist others, to do the same.

As for the Beings on Purpose, the Beings on Purpose are YOU!

My Shared Belief

All of creation comes from Source, or as most prefer, God. All creation is based in energy and therefore all of creation is connected as one. That refers to all of humankind, all creatures, in fact, all things including what exists in between. Energy is an intelligent design and therefore everything has consciousness, yes, even a rock. The energetic connection that we share with all is the baseline of everything's existence. Manifestations organize as is the natural tendency of frequencies to harmonize and then amplify. It is through our harmonization with chosen frequencies that enables us to direct our ascension, by applying choice, our individual soul's sovereignty.

Let's return to the dimensional split. Your choice will not be made under duress where you have to sign a contract and/or pledge assets. Your choice of dimension, either way, will be made solely by you and for you. Oh by the way, your choice doesn't include your family and friends for each represents their own eternal, sovereign soul. Ah ha! You felt that too? You may have just experienced a whole new dimension that resides within each of us, sovereignty. One that may, or may not resonate with the inner sanctity of your eternal, sovereign soul. In fact, you may be picturing the devil you know standing in front of and guarding a plain, bright, well lit, exit door? Allow us to solidify this concept a bit and say that true sovereignty requires transparency and transparency can resonate with those around you which often leads to amplification. In other words, be an example for those who may choose to notice just by being your true self.

Your Inner Path of Ascension*

& Becoming Unconditional Love

Outline

Answer 3 core questions

Discover your self-allowed, fear based matrix

Embrace love of oneself

Practice Loving all for what everyone & everything actually is by honoring the 100/100 Principle

Be unconditional love, the most powerful energy in the universe & be an example for those who may choose to notice

Ascend from 3D to 5D along with Gaia to help change humankind's experience on earth forever

Answer these 3 core questions

Who am I?

Why am I Here?

What do I do Next?

Once one feels comfortable with their answers to questions 1 and 2, question 3 is the obvious next step toward fulfilling the very reason for our existence, at this time in humankind's and Gaia's coexistence.

Who am I?

I am an eternal, sovereign soul created by Source/God and am directly connected to Source/God as a co-creator to assist in the expansion of the universe through thought/intension and action. I was created as Source/God intended, in absolute perfection and holding the highest level of light through the practice of Being Unconditional Love. I understand that I am always connected directly to my higher self and therefore to Source/God without need of any intermediary.

Why am I here?

As a perfect eternal, sovereign soul one of the ways I co-create is to sub-divide my soul into any number of extensions, each of which accepts a mission carried out somewhere in the universe. Those who've incarnated on earth have agreed to be physically born with a veil between their 3D and higher self so they may come to fully experience each incarnation as truly one of humankind's kin. Should that experience lead one to Being Unconditional Love their inner path is ascension and they become an example for those who choose to notice.

What do I do next?

Once one becomes comfortable with who they are and why they are here they begin immediately gathering evermore light as they naturally ascend through revelations of awareness. Although their inner changes may seem to cast only a little light at first, one's ascension immediately resonates subtly with all around them. The very process of ascension is an energetic one and naturally changes the energy through thought/intension and action all around them. This subtle process causes ever greater resonance which is naturally amplified when others do the same. Inner knowing and Being Unconditional Love is inner strength and each observer realizes the same, and so it goes.

This process represents my on-going path and is intended to be a guide for those with whom it resonates. The most important result is being unconditional love as an example for those who may choose to notice.*

Discover Your Self-Imposed, Fear Based Matrix

Choosing FEAR over Love

Ask yourself how the world has become a fear based, slave culture for almost all of humankind's known history. The current illusion that humankind exercises its birthright of sovereignty represents the very controls past generations and civilizations have suffered under. The controls under which humankind lives may appear subtler today but very obvious once discovered. Awareness of one control begins the awareness of all controls which have collectively constructed the fear based matrix in which we allow ourselves to be subjected. There are 4 basic categories of controls and each one is interwoven with the other.

Food: Controls the people

Energy: Controls countries

Money: Controls the world (this is soon to become a global absolute)

Humankind's Emotional Response to Narratives: Enables the control of the prior three

Without the vulnerability of humankind's emotional response to planned conditions and narratives, the other three cannot exist. Therefore, humankind allows the very matrix, with in which it finds itself continuously trapped. Humankind's modern day chains stem from the culmination of these 4 categories tightly controlled by mega institutions as orchestrated, by the few over the many.

Much of the world's food is mass produced and processed with GMO, pesticide rich, nutrient low, results that teeters on a fragile 72-hour supply chain. Energy is limited to what can be metered ($) such as fossil fuels instead of the known and covertly utilized, unlimited and free, zero-point energy technology. The controls of money have been centralized, created out of thin air and loaned into existence which is, by its nature, inflationary. This system requires about an 80 year reset which is often accompanied by massive wealth transfers then wars. The next reset is underway now, embodied in a looming "correction," followed by digital, programmable money and the tokenization of all assets which is designed to allow for the transfer of ownership/wealth, in real time, by the unwitting users and its success depends on who is in control of the "new system."

There have been many civilizations that have come, flourished and disappeared over the last 1.2 million linear years. Each have been gifted love and technology and many have prospered until negative, off world influence finds willing, fellow, humankind accomplices to help undermine humankind's sovereignty. The pattern of generating narratives that instigate a problem, which in turn generates an emotional reaction, which can then be remedied with a pre-planned solution is often how these controls flourish. This method is referred to as Problem, Reaction, Solution. Lather, rinse, repeat!

Choosing LOVE Over Fear

By looking within, we can begin to discover the conditions and narratives constructed from without. Notice how you react to the myriad of simple "issues" that occur to you each and every day. The duality construct pits you against others, which can create a multitude of differences that, in truth, are energetically meaningless. Identities, background, appearances, status even thoughts can create division and often devolve into conditioned patterns. Once one begins to zoom back and see, through the exercise of one's birthright of critical thinking skills, who they really are, their true self begins to emerge. That is when sovereignty begins to return and quite naturally, gathering of light and simultaneously one's ascension.

Embrace Love of Oneself by Applying

The Law of the Human Condition & The 100/100 Principle

The LAW of the Human Condition

is the road to 100/100 which is the foundation of Universal, Unconditional Love, the most powerful energy in the universe and is at the very core of the Universal Law of Non-Intervention.

Everyone wants to feel LOVED

Everyone wants to feel ACCEPTED

Everyone wants to feel WORTHY of that love and acceptance...

...by you, for and within yourself

Embrace love of oneself

Then you are 100% yourself and you are complete and absent of any void, which by its very nature cannot be filled by any outside source. Now you can see everyone and everything else as 100% them/itself. Relationships are not 50/50, instead, when based in unconditional love, they are 100/100, offering sovereignty to all. Truth & Mutual Respect leads to Trust & ultimately true oneness & unity with all that exists.

It is very likely that learning to love oneself is unique to 3D incarnations. So, embracing the Law of the Human Condition may solve the imposition of the self-created, inner void. The “filling of,” with which so many are consumed and have become constantly distracted. When such a void is created, one devises an endless array of “fillers” such as needy or conditional relationships, social and entertaining distractions, secret undertakings and substance abuse, just to name a few. These thoughts and actions are often detrimental to the integrity of one’s sense of self. These practices are generally and unwittingly, offering tribute to their inner void as a substitute to loving oneself. Seeking an inner sense of fulfillment from anywhere outside of one’s own soul cannot fill one’s self-created void. This endless pursuit typically leaves one vulnerable to those designed efforts that exploit one’s emotional response to narratives. Loving yourself is your birthright and the only true answer to sovereignty. Loving oneself evaporates the self-imposed void and now you are free from fillers and manipulation, i.e. you are sovereign.

The 100/100 Principle

Once one has embraced a love of oneself they are now “complete” as a soul entity while incarnate in 3D. Knowing yourself as 100% is a neutral state of being which affords you the ability, without imposing judgement, to view everyone and everything as 100% them/itself. This can also be referred to as Mutual Respect. Viewing relationships of any kind as 50/50 or any combination other than 100/100 skews the relationship away from being complete and toward forcing some level of unjust servitude from or upon another. When you respect all as 100% them/itself you are neutral, equal and reconnected as Source/God intended all to be. This is an equally important state of being in the process of ascension and a path to Being Unconditional Love.

Being Unconditional Love & Leading by Example

Ascend with Gia from 3D to 5D

Being Unconditional Love while in 3D begins one's ascension into 4D and beyond. Those who exercise Love transition through 4D and into 5D. Fear based beings are stuck in 3D & 4D which is where the on and off world trouble maker's controls reside, and will remain, because 5D and beyond will only allow energy based in Unconditional Love. Therefore, one's ascension from 3D to 5D transitions one to the alternative dimension that out gathers the light beyond the trouble makers reach. Don't be surprised by the number of and relationship to, those you know and love, that will choose the fear based existence that they "know" over the love based option that is their birthright and yet, may still seem unknown and foreign.

The solution to the never ending, global chaos is based on anchoring oneself in Unconditional Love and through the application of the 100/100 principle and does not require or include violence or discord of any kind. Note how it is the individual's sole responsibility to choose love over fear that delivers them from the 4D controls. This process is in line with the Universal Law of Non-Intervention and is why each eternal, sovereign soul must choose love over fear for themselves. It is important to understand that irrespective of all the 6D+, off world guidance and very limited assistance, the solution remains in each of our hands because ultimately, just like so many civilizations before...

NO ONE IS COMING TO SAVE US!

Summary

Imagine having access to this new dimension, based solely on ascending toward Being Unconditional Love. Imagine that all one will need to do is to Be Unconditional Love and a neutral ally and resonant example to those who may choose to notice. Imagine having taken action to prepare to survive the coming geophysical calamity that awaits the unwitting. Imagine being able to offer clarity to those who may choose to notice and simply refer and offer curiosity to your inner, transformative and planning example. Imagine being a subtle, yet powerful part of changing the very existence of every 3D soul that chooses to notice as they choose to coexist in harmony with each other while truly coexisting with Gaia.

Perhaps now you see how, the Beings on Purpose is YOU!
